MEXICAN SITUATION IS REGARDED BY UNITED STATES ARMY OFFICIALS AT THE BORDER AS BEING MOST SERIOUS

AMERICANS PURSUING 'HOT TRAIL' OF BANDITS HAVE FIGHT ACROSS RIO GRANDE

Lieutenant Newman, Commanding Troop H, of the Third Cavalry, Yesterday Led His Men Into Mexico, Inflicting Defeat Upon Band of Raiders Who Attacked Small Detachment of American Troops Near San Benito.

THIS FORCE, TOGETHER WITH ANOTHER SECTION OF TROOPS, WERE STILL BEYOND BORDER LAST NIGHT

Some Officials, Assuming Carranza Would Carry Out His Threat to Attack the American Forces, Declare They Believe War is Almost Unavoidable—Troops Being Placed to Meet Any Eventuality That May Arise.

San Antonio, Texas, June 17. — United States army officers at headquarters here tonight regarded the Mexican situation as most serious. Assuming that the de facto Mexican government would authorize General Alfredo Ricaut to carry out his threat to attack any American force that crossed the line into Mexico, some declared their belief that war was almost unavoidable.

That opportunity was presented today when more than 300 men of the Third cavalry crossed the river below Brownsville, in pursuit of bandits that attacked a little detachment of the 26th Infantry at San Benito last night.

General James Parker, commanding at Brownsville, sent cavalry scouring the country in the vicinity of San Benito and on a "hot trail" discovered by Lieutenant Newman, commanding Troop H, of the Third cavalry, the Americans were sent toward the border. The trail led across the river, and Lieutenant Newman led his troops across late in the forenoon.

Another Squadron Crosses.

Major Anderson with a squadron of the same regiment and a machine gun company, closed in on the same trail and early in the afternoon followed the skirmish between troop H and the bandits which occurred almost immediately after the crossing. General Parker indicated no one on either side was injured. The bandits fled without great resistance.

The pursuit was continued. Late today Major Anderson had moved his force up the river toward Matamoras, the Mexican town opposite Brownsville. He was still on the Mexican side tonight. General Parker reported that they had sent to Consul Andreas Garza, in Brownsville, a note informing him that American troops had crossed the international boundary in conformity with the spirit of the agreement between the two countries authorizing the passage of troops when finding a "hot trail" in pursuit of bandits. He also called attention to the fact that the bandits had been run back to a district which American authorities had long insisted was a rendezvous for outlaws.

Garza Expresses Regret.

Consul Garza replied acknowledging receipt of General Parker's note, adding that he knew what it meant and expressed his deep regret. Army officers regarded Consul Garza's note as a tacit admission that he believed his government would resent the entrance of this latest punitive expedition, perhaps even to the point of attempting to force it from the country.

General Parker reported to the department headquarters the attack on the detachment of the 26th infantry last night, but it was not until late today that he supplemented this with any information as to the measures he had taken to run down the attacking party. His first report brought the news that a detachment of cavalry had entered Mexico.

Militia Ordered to Brownsville.

General Parker has ordered the third battalion of the third Texas regiment from San Benito to Brownsville and it is understood to have arrived there tonight. Other precautionary troop movements were made. His action is not reporting was indicative of the character of orders to run down any band of raiders and to follow them across the international boundary line if there appears a reasonable chance of getting in contact with them.

The raid on the camp of the small infantry force at San Benito resulted in one Mexican killed and the band of raiders is reported not to have been more than thirty. The engagement today on the Mexican side of the river was, from a military point of view, insignificant but officers pointed out tonight the necessity of running down the bandits once the chase had been begun and also because they were merely a part, the officers believed, of a much larger organization that, unless checked, would perpetrate a series of raids.

Tension is Evident.

The tension at General Funston's headquarters was evident tonight. There was no indication that orders would be sent to General Parker to withdraw Major Anderson's forces but rather that by tomorrow the force would be strengthened.

General Ricaut has in the vicinity of Brownsville a large force but in that region, immediately beyond Brownsville toward the coast, in which the Americans entered, he apparently has stationed no troops. For him to move troops in position to attack the Americans where they were tonight would, however, be difficult, or require much time, it was pointed out.

EVERY PREPARATION IS MADE MEET ATTACK ON EL PASO, TEX.

El Paso, Texas, June 17. — Less than 100 Mexicans reported in Juarez Plaza this evening, in response to a call to citizens to receive military instructions that they might be prepared to repel invasion in the event there should be a break with the United States. The Mexicans organized a civil guard, went through a few perfunctory military movements and went to their homes without further demonstration.

Numerous rumors were current here today that secret organizations are being formed in Juarez, where numbers are pledged to take up arms in the event of American intervention, but these were not confirmed by Mexican officials.

The State Department has authorized employes here to spend government money if necessary to get individual Americans out of Mexico.

Mexican officials in Juarez asserted that there was nothing in the border situation to arouse apprehension. It was pointed out that the military authorities were not responsible for the call issued yesterday by Jesus Valdez, a private citizen, asking the populace to prepare themselves to repel invasion in the event of a break with the United States.

In this connection General Gonzales, commander at Juarez, issued a statement pointing out that a citizen drill has been held regularly in Juraez for some time past, but that a public call was made only yesterday.

Much interest centered in the number of destitute Mexicans arriving in Juarez daily in the hope of crossing to the United States to obtain work. Several hundred who arrived today from the Torreon and Laguna districts said Carranza officials in those districts are giving free transportation to peon families who come to the border.

Conditions in Juarez are growing worse. Well to do Mexicans, both refugees and those with official and business connections in Juarez, live in El Paso. As a result the charity of Juarez cannot stand the strain now put upon it, and some fears were expressed today that food riots might result.

Newspapers from Mexico re-print Carranza's decree calling for munnicipal elections throughout the republic on the first Sunday in September. This decree states that no person is eligible for election who has opposed the constitutionalist cause either by arms or as an office holder under a hostile faction.

COMBAT WITH BANDITS IS BEGUN ACROSS RIO GRANDE.

Brownsville, Texas, June 17.—Upwards of 400 United States cavalrymen under command of Major Edward Anderson, of the Third regiment, crossed the international border in two sections, 12 miles up the Rio Grande from here today and engaged in combat with Mexicans of unknown affiliation or organization. The occasion of the crossing was the pursuit of a "hot trail" of Mexican bandits who attacked United States soldiers near San Bonito last night.

The first command to enter Mexico was that of Lieut. A. D. Newman with Troop H, of the Third cavalry, crossing the river at 10 o'clock. A second detachment left Fort Brown at 1:30

WILL ATTACK AMERICANS UNLESS THEY WITHDRAW

Brownsville, Texas, June 17.—Carranza Consul J. Z. Garza, stationed here, delivered early tonight General Alfredo Ricaut's ultimatum to General James Parker, Brownsville commander, that unless the Anderson punitive expedition was withdrawn, an attack would be made by Carranza troops. Immediately afterward General Garza closed the consulate and moved to Matamoras.

Brownsville, Texas, June 17.—The second squadron of the Third United State Cavalry, upwards of 400 strong, after a skirmish with border bandits, is sleeping tonight on Mexican soil less than 10 miles from Matamoras, the Mexican town opposite here, where the Mexican population, fully armed with pistols and rifles, is awaiting developments with anxiety.

The soldiers' crossing was occasioned by the pursuit of the cavalry, under command of Major Edward Anderson and Lieutenant A. D. Newman, on a "hot trail" of about 30 Mexican marauders who attacked detachment of the 26th infantry near San Benito last night.

Crossing, which was started at 11 a. m., had finished at sundown without mishap at Naranjas, a small Mexican river settlement about 10 miles from here.

Within half an hour after the first troops had crossed, volleys of shots were heard from the brushy ambushes of the Mexican side of the river, indicating that at least a party of bandits had been encountered. They were known to have been chased across the river by Lieutenant Newman and troop H of the Third cavalry.

No casualties on either side attended the crossing. A field wireless apparatus has been established on the American side of the river tonight, which will keep in close touch with the fourth punitive expedition into Mexico.

Troop H, the first body of soldiers to cross, exchanged a number of shots with the bandits but the sole casualty was one Mexican bandit's horse, which was captured.

After an all night chase Lieutenant Newman's troops ran the bandits from a point east of the sleeping town of San Benito to the bend of the Rio Grande near San Pedro ranch. Here the band apparently split in two sections, one crossing the river above the ranch and the other below. The cavalry followed by the northern ford.

At 11 o'clock this morning, after

50,000 TAKE PART IN PREPAREDNESS PARADE

Virginia's Three Tidewater Cities Unite in Demonstration.

Norfolk Takes on Holiday Attire, Business and Industry Being Suspended for the Occasion—Women Well Represented.

Norfolk, Va., June 17.—Enthusiastically waving the Stars and Stripes above their heads, singing and whistling the popular and National airs, including "Tipperary," 11,000 men and women, representing the tidewater cities of Norfolk, Portsmouth and Newport News, united today in a preparedness demonstration probably unequalled in the history of the South.

The city was in holiday attire and business was suspended by merchants and industrial plants for the occasion. Practically every profession, trade and walk in life were represented. Fully 50,000 spectators crowded the line of march.

The Norfolk navy yard contingent was probably the most conspicuous among the paraders. They had 1,500 people in line, representing the various departments, marching eight abreast. The Newport News Shipbuilding & Drydock Company had over 1,200, men in line, all wearing regulation white navy hats and carrying American flags.

Aviators from the Hampton Roads training school, pulling a biplane, won tumultuous applause all along the line.

HUGHES' MANAGER NOT YET SELECTED

William Loeb, Jr., and Herbert Parsons Both Stand Chance of the Chairmanship.

NOMINEE HAS A BUSY DAY

Discusses Question of Campaign Manager With Many Callers, Including Several Members of the Progressive Party.

Washington, June 17.—Charles E. Hughes, Republican nominee for the presidency, devoted most of today to consideration of whom he would select as chairman of the Republican National Committee. He discussed the chairmanship with many callers, including several members of the Progressive wing of the party. The nominee is reported to have narrowed the field of eligibles to two or three.

Indications were tonight that neither Frank H. Hitchcock nor William Hayward, public service commissioner of New York, would be chosen; that William Loeb, Jr., whose selection was advocated by Progressive supporters of the nominee, was a possibility and that Herbert Parsons, of New York, also stood a chance of election.

Mr. Hughes' advisers said tonight that he was seeking a chairman who has not been actively identified with any faction of the party; who would be acceptable to Progressives as well as to the Republicans and if possible, a resident of New York. The nominee would prefer a man who has not been actively identified with politics during the past few years.

Callers kept the candidate busy all day, and he will spend tomorrow making final preparation for leaving the city. He does not expect to return until after election, except possibly for trips of a day or so.

Mrs. Hughes will accompany him to New York tomorrow night and while he is attending a class reunion at Providence, R. I., will hunt for a summer home. Mr. Hughes' brother-in-law, Dr. Collin Carter, who lives at Bridgehampton, N. Y., has offered to place a residence there at the nominee's disposal, and it is possible that the offer will be accepted.

WOULD USE VEHICLES TO HANDLE THE MAIL

Along Norfolk Southern, Between Norfolk and Charlotte.

Postoffice Department Preparing to Meet Emergency Should Railroad Abandon Mail Service, As Has Been Threatened.

Washington, June 17.—Tentative arrangements are being made by the Postoffice Department to handle mail by wagons and automobiles along the line of the Norfolk Southern Railroad between Norfolk, Va., and Charlotte, N C., if the railroad carries out a threat to abandon its mail service at midnight June 30 because the department refuses to grant certain demands.

Officials of the road made the threat verbally some time ago, and though no formal notice has been given, the department is preparing to have the mails carried through the territory from nearest points on other roads if necessary. Eleven demands of the Norfolk Southern were refused, the most important of them being for pay on hack hauls to stations having no facilities for handling mail at night.

A provision eliminated by the House from the pending postoffice appropriation bill would impose a fine of $5,000 for each refusal of a common carrier to transport mail. Officials of the department hope to have the clause reinserted by the Senate if the measure is finally passed.

DECLARE NORFOLK SOUTHERN HAS NOT MADE ANY THREATS

Norfolk, Va., June 17. — Replying to the charge of the Postoffice Department that the Norfolk Southern railway had threatened to abandon its midnight mail service between Norfolk and Charlotte, N. C., on June 30, President James H. Young, of the Norfolk Southern, tonight said:

"It is all buncombe," and referred the Associated Press correspondent to Colonel W. B. Rodman, general counsel of the road.

"We have made no threats to the Post Office Department, verbal or otherwise," said Colonel Rodman.

TREVINO'S DEMAND WILL GO UNHEEDED

Government Apparently to Back Pershing in Refusal to Recognize the Ultimatum.

REPLY TO CARRANZA READY

Unless Plans Are Upset It Will Go Forward by Special Messenger Monday—No Report on Brownsville Situation.

Washington, June 17.—Confirmation of General Trevino's warning that any movement of American troops in Mexico except toward the border would be treated by the Carranza commanders as a hostile act reached the War Department late today. Secretary Baker declined to comment or to make public General Trevino's message or the reply of General Pershing refusing to recognize authority of the Carranza generals over the American expedition.

While it was apparent that General Pershing's reply would be backed up by officials here it was not indicated what further action the Washington government might take. Secretary Baker took the text of General Trevino's ultimatum to the White House and conferred with the President. It was understood that the President would await official information regarding reported fighting today in the Brownsville district before he determined upon a course.

No Report from Brownsville.

Tonight the War Department had received no report on the developments at Brownsville. Officials said that if Carranza troops had made any attack on American detachments following hot trails over the line the Americans undoubtedly would withdraw to the American side and entrench to repel any attempt to follow them. They did not believe any counter attack would be attempted without specific orders from Washington.

Neither State nor War Department officials seemed greatly agitated over General Trevino's ultimatum. Secretary Lansing said the policy of the administration was unchanged.

Reply to Start Monday.

The reply to the Carranza note demanding recall of the American forces leaves by special messenger Monday for Mexico City unless developments upset present plans. Whether General Trevino's ultimatum, said to have been presented on specific orders of Carranza, would influence President Wilson to interrupt the diplomatic exchanges no official would predict.

Should the reply, refusing to withdraw General Pershing's expedition, go by messenger, it will not be delivered for ten days or two weeks. Its text will not be made public until it reaches its destination.

So far as known, the War Department has taken no additional steps toward mobilizing the National Guard. The new army bill providing for federalization of the militia will go into effect July 1, automatically repealing the present militia law. The new act requires state troops who participate in Federal appropriations to take a dual oath of allegiance.

Only the Kansas guard now is required to take such an oath and unless all the remaining units take the required oath before July 1 a legal hiatus will occur in their states which may prove embarrassing. The attention of all governors had been called to this condition and they have been urged to see that their men are promptly sworn in in accordance with the new law. This correspondence is said to have led to reports that the guard of various states had received orders for active service on the border.

Army Transports in Readiness.

It became known today that several army transports are being held in readiness for use as refuge ships should the need arise. Whether any actually have been ordered to Mexican waters, officials would not say. The navy transport Hancock will go to Vera Cruz, however, as soon as she lands her marine passengers in Santo Domingo.

Official advices indicate that the recent border raids have created great excitement in the American colony in Mexico City. Many Americans are said to be preparing to leave. There are approximately 1,000 Americans in the Mexican capital and 1,800 in and about Tampico. As a measure of precaution the destroyer mothership Panther and

ALL LAWS MAY BE RIGIDLY ENFORCED

Virginia's New Ouster Act Gives Life to "Blue Laws," Long Without Enforcement.

SOME TESTS TO BE MADE

Segregated Districts of Norfolk and Newport News Closed Last Midnight—What is "Unnecessary" Work on Sunday?

Richmond, Va., June 17.—Closing of the segregated districts of Norfolk and Newport News at midnight tonight was the first action taken as a result of Virginia's new ouster law, by which public officials of trust may be removed for not enforcing all statutes. The measure was passed by the recent legislature to secure rigid enforcement of the prohibition and anti-vice laws, but it also gives life to "blue laws" that for years have remained all but forgotten.

One of the most perplexing problems the authorities have to face is contained in a law written on the statute books many years ago prohibiting "unnecessary" work on Sunday. Earlier in the week, word had gone forth that the officials would take no chances, and would enforce every law to the letter, but tonight indications were that in the majority of the cities a more liberal interpretation would be made, and what promised to be the "bluest" Sunday in Virginia history probably will not fulfill first expectations.

Various commonwealth's attorneys have given conflicting opinions as to what the word "necessary" embraces. In Richmond the officials have admitted themselves puzzled as to what course to pursue and test cases will be made for future guidance.

Warrants have been prepared for the arrest of one employe of every concern doing business tomorrow but street cars, newspapers, telegraph and telephone companies will operate as usual and there will be no interference with delivery of baggage, ice, bread and milk.

Newsboys will be allowed on the streets, but will be arrested for disorderly conduct if they make any undue noise in crying their wares. Drug stores will remain open for the filling of necessary prescriptions.

Beyond closing the segregated districts, Norfolk will not be greatly affected under the new order. Under an opinion by Commonwealth Attorney Shackleford, sale of soft drinks, newspapers and works of general utility will be recognized as public necessities. Sales of candies and other confections by drug stores, however, will not be permitted.

Newport News, in addition to abolishing the segregated district, will follow the example of Richmond in making test cases, but will make exceptions in the cases of steamship companies, street railways and railroads. Hebrew merchants who observe closing law on Saturday will not be molested.

The mayor of Bristol has announced that all labor except that of charity and necessity must cease for the day. Newspapers will be sold on the streets tomorrow, but will be prohibited on subsequent Sundays. Restaurants, hotels, street cars, taxicabs and transfer

PROBATE JUDGE'S BODY DISCOVERED IN RIVER

Several Prominent Men Are Charged With His Murder

Killing of Judge W. T. Lawler, at Huntsville, Ala., Marks the Tragical Climax of a Bitter Political Fight.

Huntsville, Ala., June 17.—That Madison county officers and Huntsville police are seeking at least three and probably more of the most prominent citizens of Huntsville and at least one man well known in Alabama politics in connection with the murder of Probate Judge W. T. Lawler, became definitely known tonight. After the finding of the body today weighted down in the Tennessee river two companies of militia were sent here to prevent violence which was feared when the tragic climax of a bitter political fight became known.

Judge Lawler was last seen Wednesday night, when he said he had an engagement to meet a political opponent at the court house. When he did not return that night his family became alarmed and reported his absence to the sheriff. Judge Lawler's eye glasses were found Thursday morning on the court house lawn. His automobile was standing Thursday morning in front of the court house where it is believed he drove it. He was shot twice and struck

GERMANS ARE TAKING PART

Rome Announces Some Important Successes in Trentino.

The drive of the Russian offensive in Volhynia, Galicia and Bukowina shows little slackening in power, although the progress of General Brusilloff's armies apparently is much less rapid than in the early stages of the campaign.

From the Volhynian triangle fortresses the Russians have thrust sharply to the west and southwest. It the former direction they are battering on the Austrian defensive line along the Styr and the Stokhod, not more than 30 miles from Kovel, the important railway junction essential to close connection between the southern Teutonic armies and those to the north.

Close to Galician Border.

To the southwest they are close to the Galician border, pushing down the railway from Dubno. The current Russian official statement reports the occupation of Radsilowo, less than ten miles from Brody, across the frontier line and approximately sixty miles southeast of Lemberg, the Galician capital, the Russian objective in this drive.

Berlin records the participation of German troops in the fighting against the Russians, representing General Von Linsengen's forces engaged in the Stokhod-Styr sector and others under General Count Von Bothmer taking part in the battles north of Przewolka.

On the western front, the fighting at Verdun has again been left to the artillery for the most part. The Germans are violently shelling French positions in the Dead Man Hill section and incidentally have made hand grenade attacks in this vicinity which Paris declares were futile.

Rome announces an important success northeast of Asiago, in the Trentino, where several postions at the head of the Frenzela valley werecaptured. Vienna reports the failure of Italian attacks in the Dolomites and likewise of assaults upon the Austrian lines on the Doberdo plateau.

Airmen have been unusually active on the various fronts. Austrian aviators raided Padua and other Italian towns nearby; German machines have dropped bombs on several points of military importance along the western front including Bar Le and Dunkirk and a French air squadron had bombarded various railroad stations behind the Germans' lines. Italian aeroplanes have been busy, one squadron of 37 machines dropping projectiles on Austrian encampments north of Asiago.

Constantinople announces the disorderly retreat of British forces which were defeated in attempting to cross the Euphrates river in Mesopotamia and the driving back of Russian troops which appeared on the Persian frontier, near Bana.

An attack by three torpedo boats of the Entente Allies on the Austrian seaport of Parenzo, in Istria was a failure, according to Vienna. Austrian coast batteries and aeroplanes driving off the hostile craft.

HAVE MISREPRESENTED CONDITIONS IN SOUTH

Fail to Tell Facts as to Child Labor in Cotton Mills.

Vice President Davis of Textile Association Attacks "Paid Hirelings, Long-Haired Men and Short-Haired Women."

Asheville, N. C., June 17.—Charging that "paid hirelings, long-haired men and short-haired women" had grossly misrepresented child labor conditions in Southern cotton mills to Congress and the Interstate Commerce Commission, advocating state aid to parents, urging compulsory school attendance and predicting "another chance at the Keating bill," J. M. Davis, of Newberry, S. C., vice president of the Southern Textile Association, made the principal address at the closing session of the association today.

The following officers were unanimously elected for the ensuing year:

President, Frank E. Heymer, Alexander City, Ala.

Vice President, J. M. Davis, Newberry, S. C.

Secretary, A. B. Carter, Greenville, S. C.

Treasurer, Marshall Dilling, Siluria, Ala.

Chairman Board of Governors, Gordon Cobb, Inman, S. C.

Speaking of the Keating Child Labor bill now pending in Congress, Vice President Davis declared that there had been much misrepresentation of mill conditions in the South.

"The average politician," he said, "both state and national, cares very little for the merits or demerits of this bill, or for the child or family it may affect. If the bill is for the time popular, and if by supporting it, the politician can retain his office, he is ready to give it his unqualified support."

Concluding his speech, Mr. Davis said that the mill owners do not wish to work children under 14 years of age, and in most cases where children under that age are allowed to work "such action is more for the benefit of the child taken for the monetary advantage than to the mill."

a number of destroyers have been ordered to Key West, ready for a quick dash to the relief of Americans along the coast. It is understood also that other navy craft are being prepared for emergency use, although plans have been carefully guarded.

Details of San Ignacio Fight.

A message today from Major Gray, of the 14th cavalry, gave further details of the fight at San Ignacio between his troops and bandits. All of the bandits are believed to have been Carranza soldiers at one time or another, he said, though it was hard to say how many still were enrolled as such. A lieutenant's blouse was found; papers on the bodies of Mexicans bore the stamp of the Carranza army and Major Cruz Ruiz, believed to be a Carranza officer was captured.

Major Gray picked up a number of rifles and ten bombs, left behind by the attackers. He also noted that ammunition used by his assailants included soft nosed bullets.

Anticipated Fighting.

In his dispatch to the War Department telling of the attack by the bandits at San Benito and the crossing of the Rio Grande by their pursuers, General Funston said:

"I anticipate fighting."

No additional troops have been ordered to the border and General Funston has not asked for reinforcements, said Secretary Baker.

"I look for no immediate trouble there," said the Secretary. "That situation seems to be not imminent."

After he left the White House Secretary Baker went into conference with Major General Scott, chief of staff, at the War Department. Later Major General Bliss, assistant chief of staff, and Brigadier General Mills, chief of the militia division, were summoned. The three officers who remained closeted with the Secretary until nearly midnight are understood to have gone over very carefully what course should be pursued in case of a clash between Carranza and American troops.

The presence of General Mills was taken as confirmation that one of the first steps to meet such a development would be a mobilization of more National Guardsmen at the border. After the conference General Scott said no new troop orders of any sort had been sent or decided upon.

spending one hour on Mexican soil. Lieutenant Newman's command came in contact with the marauders and a lively though bloodless skirmish, ensued, neither being able to see the other on account of the dense brush.

After crossing the river, Newman dispatched a messenger to inform headquarters at Fort Brown of his crossing. The messenger, a private of Troop H, lost his horse in the middle of the Rio Grande and swam to the other side, almost losing his own life.

The trail of blood, followed last night by the cavalry, led to the body of a Mexican peon. His only possessions were two bullet holes, a rifle and some ammunition. He carried no papers which might have disclosed his name or affiliations.

The situation in Matamoras tonight was serious. Every business house in the town was closed with the exception of one saloon. In this rendezvous were gathered army officers who gave out threats calculated to arouse the already alarmed populace into a frenzy.

General Alfredo Ricaut, commander of the Matamoras garrison, did not learn of the crossing of American troops into Mexico until early in the afternoon. He then called the population of the town together in his headquarters where he distributed rifles, pistols and ammunition to men, boys and even girls. By mid-afternoon at least 1,500 men were patrolling the streets under full arms.

Consul J. J. Garza, who has been making efforts to avoid a clash between Americans and Mexicans on the Mexican side, tonight held a conference with General James Parker. The result of this conference was not disclosed here.

It was reported tonight that Aniceto Pizana, the alleged bandit leader, said to have been implicated in last summer's raids, who was held in Matamoras, had disappeared.

o'clock and joined the Newman expedition with Major Anderson commanding, about 3 o'clock this afternoon.

According to the meagre reports here, fighting began immediately, or shortly after the entrance to Mexico. Telephone reports from Villa Nueva, another settlement on the river bang, says that heavy fighting was audible. Officers at Fort Brown declined tonight to make known the progress of the expedition, probably because of lack of information.

All soldiers and officers stationed at Fort Brown were called in from outside points at noon and held in the garrison. Activities at the post indicated that any eventuality might be expected. In the meantime officials waited for some word of Major Anderson's flying column.

CARRANZISTAS SENT TO INTERCEPT AMERICANS

Mercedes, Texas, June 17.—An unconfirmed report reached here this afternoon that Carranza soldiers have been sent from Matamoras to intercept American troops reported to have crossed the border following a "hot trail."

According to information received here Lieutenant Newman, commanding troop H, 3rd cavalry, crossed the Rio Grande into Mexico at 1 o'clock at Ranchita, two miles south of San Benito. Three other troops of the Third cavalry are concentrated at Ranchita, awaiting the outcome of the pursuit.

TOWN OF MATAMORAS LAST NIGHT UNDER FULL ARMS

Brownsville, Texas, June 17.—Fifteen hundred men, boys and even girls, were patrolling the streets of Matamoras, the Mexican town opposite here, tonight under full arms, which had been distributed to them today by General Alfredo Ricaut, commander of the Carranza garrison there. Intense excitement prevails with the presence of American troops ten miles outside of the town.

ADDITIONAL TROOPS WILL REINFORCE THE EXPEDITION

Brownsville, Texas, June 17.—Additional United States troops, including a portion of the 28th infantry, and the remainder of the third cavalry, under command of A. P. Blocksom, were en route to Naranjos tonight, the point of crossing of a squad of the Third Cavalry into Mexico today to reinforce those already sent in.

DESTROY RAILROAD TRACKS ON INTERNATIONAL BRIDGE

Brownsville, Texas, June 17.—Mexicans operating from the Southern side of the river destroyed all railroad tracks on the International bridge here last tonight, blocking traffic except to pedestrians. Fear that troop trains might be sent over the bridge from the United States is said to have caused this action.

MRS. JOHN JACOB ASTOR IS SOON TO BE MARRIED AGAIN

She Will Relinquish the Income on a Trust Fund of $5,000,000.

New York, June 17.—Mrs. John Jacob Astor, who was rescued in the Titanic disaster in which her husband perished, will be married at her country home at Bar Harbor, Me., at an early date, probably on Monday, to William K. Dick, a wealthy sugar refiner of Brooklyn.

By contracting this marriage, announcement of which today came as a surprise to all except the closest friends of the couple, Mrs. Astor relinquishes the income on a trust fund of $5,000,000 bequeather to her by Colonel Astor in his will "For so long during her natural life as she shall remain my widow." This money will revert to his son, by a former carriage, Vincent Astor. Similarly, the Astor Fifth avenue town house and its contents will become Vincent Astor's property.

Mrs. Astor is 24 years of age, about five years the junior of Mr. Dick, who is a member of an old Brooklyn family, a club man and a director of several banks and industrial concerns. Mr. Dick and Mrs. Astor have been friends since childhood.

Mrs. Astor, formerly Madeleine Talmage Force, became in 1911 when 19 years old, the second wife of Colonel Astor, then 46, many times a millionaire and head of the Astor family. About four months after Colonel Astor's death in April, 1912, his widow gave birth to a son, John Jacob Astor.

Y. W. C. A. SWIMMING COURSE

At Beach for Members of Cooleemee Club is Being Taken by Large Class of Young Ladies.

A large class of young ladies are taking advantage of the free swimming course which is being given under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association to members of the Cooleemee Club at Wrightsville Beach. An opportunity to become proficient in this art is offered free to all members of the club. The lessons are being given by Miss Anna Troutt, general secretary of the Y. W. C. A. The class had its first lesson Friday afternoon in the sound near the club. Judging from the interest manifested at the first lesson, it is apparent that a large number of novices will soon be learning how to float and make headway in the water.

To those who put off the important matter of learning how to swim, it is pointed out, that he necessity of acquiring this accomplishment is often brought home too late. Also is a brought home in a number of instances to the non-swimmer on the bank every summer as he sees another sink before his eyes, while he or she is forced to stand by powerless to render the assistance which would save a life.

The lessons will be given three afternoons each week, Wednesdays, Fridays and Saturdays, in Bank's Channel. A charge of 10 cents will be made to members of the club for bathing suits, and caps may be purchased at the club.

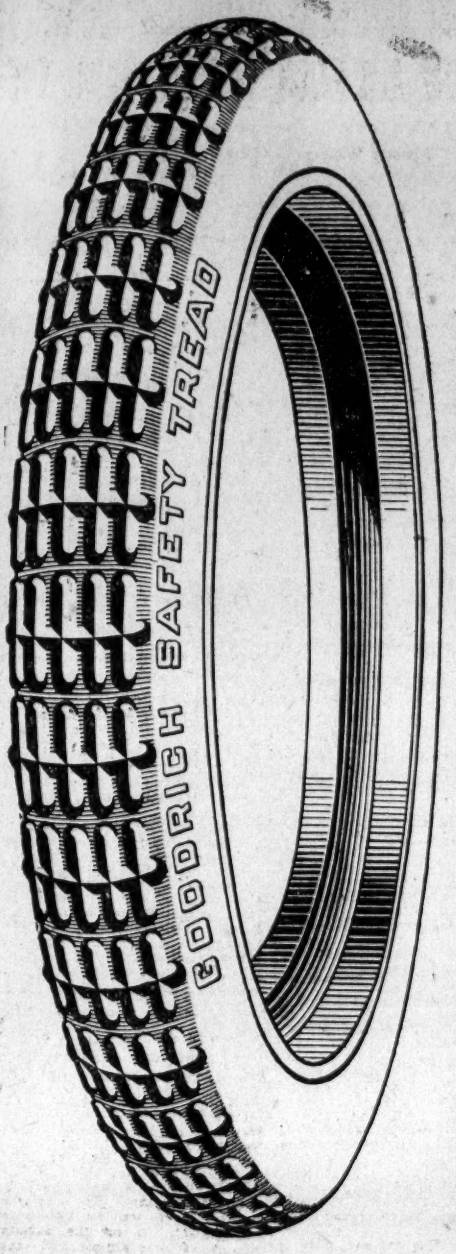
The "Gold-Standard"—
—in Tires



GOODRICH Tire Values are not at all "Accidental."
They spring from Conditions which are logical as the Laws of the Universe.
The best-intentioned Tire Manufacturer cannot AVOID being heavily handicapped when competing against them.
Because,—Goodrich "Conditions" summarize into this:—
1st—The longest Experience in Mfg. the Product.
2nd—The greatest Leverage on purchasing of Raw Materials at lowest prices, through ability to take largest quantities.
3rd—The lowest Cost of Manufacturing, —through largest VOLUME of Output.
4th—The clearly-demonstrated INTENTION to give Consumers and Dealers the full benefit of the large ECONOMIES resulting from possession of the three Cardinal Advantages above defined.

THE Product of such a Rubber-Concern,—when marketed under such conditions,—giving the benefit of such huge Economies to Consumers may well, and logically, be considered—the "GOLD-STANDARD" in Tire Values.
Therefore:—
—When you pay MORE than the Goodrich Fair-List prices, here printed, for ANY Fabric Tire, you are merely "contributing" the difference.
Because,—You CANNOT get "better" Fabric Tires,—at ANY price!

WEBER AND WARD'S HORSE, DODGE, WINS LATONIA DERBY

Cincinnati, June 17.—Weber and Ward's great horse Dodge, with Murphy up, won the thirty-third renewal of the classic Latonia derby at the Latonia (Kentucky) race track today George Smith, winner of the Kentucky derby, finished second and Dick Williams third. Dodge's time was 2:37.

After the first race a heavy rain fell turning the track from good to sloppy The rain also turned the betting from George Smith, who was a heavy early favorite, to Dodge and near post time the heaviest play centered on the eventual winner. There were 35 parimutual machines in the betting shed which were in constant operation, while three machines had been placed on the lawn for the derby race and were opened to the public at 1 o'clock.

Seven horses came from the paddock to the barrier in the Derby. Gipsey George caused a delay at the post of about ten minutes by bad acting, but the field was eventually sent away to a good start. Gipsey George immediately went to the front and opened up a gap of five lengths. Dodge was second with George Smith running easy three lengths back.

They ran in this position until the far turn was reached, the balance of the field being strung out almost the entire race. Here Dick Williams moved up strongly while Gipsey George tired badly an ddropped out of contention. Dodge then immediately went to the front and won eased up.

WEBER AND WARD'S HORSE, DODGE, WINS LATONIA DERBY

Baltimore, June 17.—William C. Ballantyne, of the Columbia Country Club, of Washington, won the annual Middle Atlantic Golf Association's individual championship here today defeating T. Courtney Jenkins, of the Baltimore Country Club, one up.

With Jenkins leading at the fifteenth hole by two up and only three more holes to play; Ballantyne, braced and won the next three holes and the match. This is the second time Ballantyne has won the championship.

SYRACUSE CREWS TAKE THE PRINCIPAL EVENTS

Win Two First Places in Annual Regatta at Poughkeepsie.

Cornell Takes Second Place While Columbia is Third and Pennsylvania Fourth—Freshman Race to Be Held Monday.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 17.—Syracuse University eight-oared crews won the two principal events of the 22nd annual regatta of the Intercollegiate Rowing Association here today. The freshman race was postponed until Monday.

In both the four mile 'varsity and the Junior two-mile contest, Coach TenEyck's oarsmen took command shortly after the start and were never healed. They swept across the finish line in perfect form, with plenty of power apparently in reserve.

Cornell was second in each race, and if it had not been for Coach Courtney's pupils the regatta would have been devoid of excitement and interest, for neither Columbia nor Pennsylvania could give the Syracuse or Cornell eights a real battle.

All four crews rowed gamely, but the Syracuse combinations had both the technique and the physical strength to outdistance other contenders.

Syracuse 'varsity won the feature race of the day, defeating Cornell by a little more than a length, with Columbia about seven lengths back of the Ithaca crew, and Pennsylvania four lengths behind the New York oarsmen. The official times for the four miles were:

Syracuse 20:15 2-5; Cornell 20:22 4-5; Columbia 20:41 1-5; Pennsylvania 20:52 4-5.

In the Junior 'varsity two mile race, Syracuse finished one and a quarter lengths ahead of Cornell with Columbia five lengths in the rear of Coach Rice's eight and the latter some 15 lengths ahead of Pennsylvania. The times were:

Syracuse 11:15 2-5; Cornell 11:20 3-5; Columbia 11:32 and Pennsylvania 12:06 1-5.

The regatta was marked by unfavorable weather, delays in the starting of the events, and ended in the final postponement of the freshman race after the crews had been called to the starting line when it was too dark to distinguish one eight from the other.

The wind which blew up stream all day, freshened and there were white caps at 5 o'clock when the freshmen were due to start. The stewards then decided, after waiting two hours for better water, to row the 'varsity race instead. It was almost 7:20 when the 'varsity eights were sent away.

Columbia had the inside course, with Pennsylvania next, Syracuse in third position and Cornell the farthest from the shore. The wind died down and the Hudson was comparatively calm, but daylight was fading rapidly.

Columbia was first to catch the water and jumped into the lead, rowing 34 strokes to the minute, while Pennsylvania and Syracuse hit up 38. Cornell was last away, rowing a deliberate 30.

Before the half mile was reached, Syracuse, although it dropped to 30 had gone into the lead, while Pennsylvania and Columbia appeared to be on even terms, with Cornell last by about a half length.

From this point the salt city eight led Cornell, which had rowed into second position, by about three quarters of a length, while Pennsylvania was third, an equal distance ahead of Columbia.

Coming out from under the bridge, with only a mile to go, Cornell raised its stroke to 32, but Coxswain Jayne called on Syracuse for 33 and Cornell's last chance of victory began to fade.

Syracuse appeared to get more power in their drive than did the Courtney pupils and quickly slid into an increasing lead. By this time both Columbia and Pennsylvania were far back in the wash. Half a mile from the finish both crews swerved out of their course, either through fault of the coxswain or from a twist of the current. Here Syracuse, dropping its stroke to 30 was a full length ahead, while Cornell, stroking 29, led Columbia by seven lengths.

All the eights spurted nearing the finish line, but the Syracuse craft slipped through the water so rapidly that there were two lengths between it and Cornell, the second crew, as they passed the judges boat. Columbia was third, some seven lengths back of Cornell, and Pennsylvania last, about four lengths separating them from the New York oarsmen. All four eights finished in good physical condition and there was no collapse among the 32 oarsmen.

The Cubs, who won first place in the first half of the season's series of baseball games of the Interurban League, continued their winning streak yesterday afternoon by defeating the Red Sox by the score of 7 to 2. This game was played at Winter Parkwhile at East Wilmington the latter team was victorious over the Winter Park boys, the score being 10 to 2.

The winners of the second half of the series will have to meet the Cubs in five post-season games for the pennant. Should the Cubs continue their winning during the second half as they did during the first half of the season they would secure the pennant without the post-season games.

Both of the games yesterday afternoon were featured by the good steady playing of practically all the players. Horne starred in his pitching for East Wilmington. Houston was umpire for the game at Winter Park and Woodward umpired at East Wilmington. There was a good attendance at both games and the spectators were enthusiastic over the splendid playing done.

TOP O' THE MORNING.

The life whose days are spent in communion with God in trying to reach the source of power, is the life that moves the world. The great world may take no account of them. But by-and-by, the great moving current of these lives will begin to tell. — A. J. GORDON.

The Progressives are wondering if they have a party.

Bryan came back good and strong at the St. Louis convention.

Who's gonna listen to all their Hughes and cries? Nothing in 'em at all.

If you ask us to point out an example of ingratitude, we have only to point to those suffragist leaders who spent the past week at St. Louis.

Democratic achievements during the past four years fully warrant the people in wanting four more years of Democratic construction in the interest of the people.

When you hear a fellow vociferating and getting into a fighting humor, get him to enlist as a volunteer unless he falls dead when he really believes you are a recruiting officer.

More than ever before the people of North Carolina are recognizing the fundamental fact that good roads are less expensive than bad ones, and thus the era of good roads is being hastened.

If the Democracy of North Carolina had nothing else in the way of a record of which to boast, the marvelous and magnificent progress and development made by the State's educational system in the last dozen years is enough to warrant the party in asking a continuance of its administration.

Colonel Bryan does not give two straws what the quick-on-triggers have said about him, he knows whose handwagon to get on when he wants a joyride. When a fellow is the kind of Democrat who can shed tears of joy over the triumphs of Democracy, give him a seat right up in front.

Take almost any community in North Carolina and compare the schools of today—buildings and equipment, length of term, efficiency and the work being done—with those of fifteen years ago. Then remember that the difference—the lion's share of it—is justly and honorably to be credited to Democratic administration of the State's affairs.

President Wilson wants the papers to cut out all jokes about Mr. Hughes' whiskers. Won't he also do a little for the relief of Senator Jim Ham Lewis and President Carranza? There's plenty of other intellectual enjoyment for editors who need fillers for the paragraph column. On account of President Wilson's kind suggestion, he ought to be re-elected President.

Boss Penrose, of Pennsylvania, declares that Hughes has "ever been true to his trust." All the trusts will be satisfied that they won't be slighted, and for that reason they will run over each other to subscribe to the Republican campaign fund, a great amount of which will be spent in magazine articles telling "the truth" about the Democratic administration for the consumption of those who are gullible enough to believe everything they read in a magazine and thereupon form their political opinions.

A Republican said yesterday that if the Democrats hadn't done anything he would keep on voting to turn them out, but, owing to the fact that they have done more for the people than the Republican party ever did, they deserve to be kept in power in the interest of the people and for the good of the country. He declares that he can find no excuse for voting against Wilson and would not consider himself a good American if he did so. He declares that the people need four years more of what Wilson has been doing for the people. Furthermore, he asserts, the people would not be true to themselves if they were to vote against Wilson.

IS AMERICAN PATRIOTISM EXTINCT?

Now and then we find a man who appears to feel that it is a settled fact, sure as fate, that Wilson and the Democratic party are foredoomed to defeat in the November election, all because the Progressives will not have a ticket headed by Roosevelt in the field in this campaign fighting the Republican party. As the only basis for their prediction, they point with an air of cocksureness to the election of 1912 and remind you that Wilson could never have been elected but for the split in the Republican party. Now that the party is re-uniting, they say, with an air of finality, that settles it and assures the election of Hughes.

Such a view can only be predicated upon the assumption that the majority of the American people are so constituted that they are going to vote against any ticket that bears the Democratic name, absolutely without regard to domestic or foreign circumstances, without any regard whatever to the record or policies of any party; that it matters not an iota what Wilson or the Democratic Congress has done or failed to do, nor what the Republican party ever did or failed to do—the American people are simply opposed to Democracy and are going to vote against it without any consideration of what the country needs or doesn't need.

We are happy to say that we have not yet so completely lost confidence in the patriotism of the American people as to believe they have ever reached such a state of indifference to their Nation's wellbeing. It will be a sad day for the American Republic when the people of the Nation as a whole or even any sort of majority of them get to the point where a party's record, where an administration's achievements in behalf of the whole people, where a president's success in saving the Nation from falling into the whirlpool of world war and maintaining peace without the sacrifice of honor, receive no consideration at the hands of the electorate when they are about to cast their ballot. If the time ever comes when such a condition exists, then the Nation will be headed to destruction, for the people will have lost all patriotism, without which a free republic cannot exist. If ever the people reach such a level as that, then they will have forfeited their right to a voice in the choice of those who are to hold the reigns of government and a monarchy would serve just as well, for such a people would not be fit to rule themselves.

Those who so confidently predict the defeat of Wilson and the Democratic party, simply because the political conditions which they say resulted in the election of a Democratic administration in 1912 no longer exist, forget that other conditions of far greater weight with thinking, patriotic people are radically different from what they were in 1912. In that campaign the national Democratic party had no recent record to present to the people, the world war had not been dreamed of, Wilson had not been tried or tested and a great many people voted, doubtless, as they had been voting in years past, on the theory that it were better to bear the ills we suffer than fly to others we know not of.

Today the Democratic party can go before the people, as in no other campaign in all the years, with a record of achievement without parallel in the history of the Nation. It could not do so in 1913. The Democracy can point to a record of constructive legislation never before approached by any administration, such as the new banking system that makes panics impossible and takes the purse strings of the Nation out of the hands of Wall Street. It could not do this in 1912. This is only one of many pieces of constructive legislation for the benefit of the people that they must credit to the Democratic administration. This year the Democratic party can say to the people with confidence that it has done more for them in four years than the Republican party did in fifty. It could not say this in 1912. In this campaign the Democratic party has as its standard bearer a man who as president has faced, and faced successfully, more crucial problems than any other president since Lincoln. The party could not say that about its candidate in 1912.

Today the Democracy can say without fear of successful contradiction, and the nations of earth, if they could testify, would bear out the statement, that "if you defeat our candidate, you thereby in all probability paralyze the only hand that can write the world's peace treaty." Democracy could not say that in 1912. Today the Democratic party can point to its standard bearer as the man who, without in any wise sacrificing the Nation's honor, has kept us out of war that would ere now have robbed the Republic of a large part of the flower of its manhood, and made numerous heart-bleeding widows and orphans of women and children who today are happy with their husbands and fathers. The party could not point to such a candidate in 1912.

If the American people are so constituted, a majority of them, that all these things and numerous others make no difference with them, if such a record is to be ignored or lightly considered, if a record of such glorious and far-reaching achievement for the well-being of the people—if the people are so ungrateful as to go to the polls and put their stamp of condemnation upon such a record as that—then, pray tell us of what account is a record of efficiency, faithfulness to the people and of unparalleled achievement in behalf of the country? In that case, any old record would answer their requirements as well as another.

We are not so pessimistic as to believe the country has fallen upon such evil days or that the people have fallen to such low level. American patriotism is not extinct. In fact, the people twice elected Grover Cleveland as a Democratic President when there was no third party in existence. However, on numerous occasions the Republican Presidents have had Democratic Congresses on their hands. This shows that the people can be appealed to on issues alone.

THE STATE GOOD ROADS CONVENTION

Wilmington will be in high feather this week because of the annual meeting of the North Carolina Good Roads Association, on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at Wrightsville Beach. The meetings will be held at the commodious auditorium recently erected on Harbor Island. The auditorium will seat 2,000 people and every arrangement has been made to assure the comfort and enjoyment of those who attend. Ocean breezes sweep through the well ventilated and ideally lighted building, and it is not boasting in a triumphant way to state that there is nowhere in th State an assemblage place that is so delightful and suitable for large gatherings, especially in summer.

The city and beach people are cocked and primed for this event and are prepared to handle 5,000 or more people who desire to take advantage of the excursion rates now in effect on all the railroads in the State. Good roads delegates and visitors are expected from all the hundred counties of the State, and if every county and city is not represented it will be no fault of the Wilmington Highway Association, which has made a record as a propagandist organization and publicity stuntist.

The Wilmington Highway Association has set a new pace for nifty and hefty liveness and activity. It has set the example to organizations which want to start something and get it a-going like greased lightning. The boys have done fine work, and the best of it is that they also got others to work all over the State in the matter of boosting the greatest good roads convention ever undertaken in Carolina. This Wilmington organization came nto existence to co-operate with Dr. Joseph Hyde Pratt, Secretary of the North Carolina Good Roads Association, to carry out comprehensive plans for an effective campaign for State highways and road improvements throughout North Carolina. The special object at this time is to impress upon the people of Eastern North Carolina the necessity for good roads as a potent factor in the rapid development of the country. The local association has especially emphasized the need of good roads leading into Wilmington as the commercial center and market clearing house of this portion of the Nation's Garden Spot. They have done systematic and effective work in emphasizing the tremendous benefits that will be derived by all this section from improved highways connecting the leading cities of the State.

The publicity work done in behalf of the State convention and the good roads cause has aroused widespread interest in the three days convention that is to meet at the beach next Wednesday. The Atlantic Coast Line, the Seaboard Air Line and the Southern Railway have taken keen interest in the convention and have attractively advertised it along their lines. They offer excursion rates to all who desire to come to Wilmington on this occasion at an exceedingly delightful season of the year on the seashore.

The Wilmington Highway Association will be host for this notable week and one of the features of the convention will be a handsome illustrated souvenir programme for distribution among the throng that is expected here all this week.

READY FOR THE FRAY

The Democracy is now in the field with Wilson and Marshall, fortified by a party record as strong as Gibraltar. The St. Louis platform puts the issues squarely before the people, and the Democratic administration has a record of achievements that defies assault. The Republican party cannot meet the issues except by meaningless phrases and partisan prejudice.

The Republican party has made no record in four years and dare not hark back to the ante-1913 record upon which it earned defeat at the hands of the people. The G. O. P. expects to fight the Democracy with a platform that means nothing, for half its demands have already been enacted into laws by the militant Democracy. Another half of its demands for legislation are on the Democratic administration's programme and progress has been made towards more Democratic achievement on that line.

What use, therefore, has this country for the Republican party, when the Democracy has done more for the people in four years than the G. O. P. has done in fifty? The records are there to be contrasted. The Republicans want to chew the rag about the administration's foreign policy, but, all theories as to that aside, the main thing is what the Democratic party has done for the American people. The people will be able to see the record for themselves, and if they are true to themselves they will re-elect Wilson and make sure of a Democratic Congress to back him for more construction.

CURRENT COMMENT

The city of Greensboro, we see by the papers, is advertising its intention to sell six churches, of assorted denominations, in order to settle paving bills. If you need a church now, it would appear, is the time to invest; come early and avoid the rush—line forms on the right. You may have your choice between Baptist, Christian, Episcopal and Presbyterian, which ought to offer a wide enough range to the most captious purchaser. Seriously, though, it is surprising that the churches should be so negligent—surprising because ordinarily they are so careful. Considering what they have to work with, the financing of the average church is a triumph of business ability. If the Daily News were dependent upon an income as uncertain, as fluctuating, and as inadequate as that of many churches we are pretty well assured that it would have been not advertised, but long since sold by the sheriff at the courthouse door.—Greensboro News.

There is no doubt about the fact that much of the criticism of President Wilson's management of the Mexican situation comes from certain "interests" which would have the United States intervene in Mexico or else practice a system of "land grabbing" as indemnity for the lives of American citizens. Such a course would bring on war with Mexico, but what care money getters for human life and happiness if the sacrifice of them turns more wealth into their coffers? The seizure of some of the rich country of Mexico and putting it under the control of such an administration as the "interests" would seek to elect would be far more profitable than owning and operating plants under Mexican rule. And besides, it is likely that the "interest" government would be very generous in its terms with its supporters when said supporters wished to purchase property or get concessions. —Fayetteville Observer.

J. M. Barr, former president of the Seaboard Air Line, has issued a pamphlet containing a number of letters written by and to him in regard to the necessity of developing livestock raising in the South if this section is ever to attain the degree of prosperity to which its natural advantages entitle it. Mr. Barr, who is now living at Terra Ceia, N. C., deals mainly with the situation in this State. In letters to officials of the North Carolina experiment station he contrasts the abounding agricultural prosperity of Iowa with its per capita of wealth of $3,530, with the per capita of $757 of North Carolina; largely due to the livestock industry of Iowa, and to the lack of its adequate development in North Carolina, and the reason for the latter he attributes largely to the lack of packing houses in our State. His letters are a plea to the agricultural experiment station to co-operate in the establishment of a packing plant at Raleigh, in order to furnish a market for hogs and cattle, and thus broaden the interest throughout the State in livestock production. Mr. Barr says that until a market is created for hogs and cattle by the establishment of such plants there can be no large increase in the production of livestock.—Greensboro News.

BACK FROM NATIONAL T. P. A. CONVENTION

Mr. J. H. Niggel, Jr., Represented Wilmington Post G.

Retiring President Charles F. Tomlinson, of North Carolina, Presented With Silver Service—Meet Next in Savannah.

To attend two National conventions in one week, one of these being the Republican gathering in Chicago and the other the annual meeting of the Travelers' Protective Association of America, was the unusual privilege of Mr. J. H. Niggel, Jr., of Wilmington, who returned to the city yesterday after a most delightful trip to the Middle West. Mr. Niggel viewed the National G. O. P. convention simply as a spectator, having no official connection with it, but was the accredited representative of Post G, of Wilmington, at the National T. P. A. convention, which was in session from June 5th to the 10th in LaFayette, Ind. There were 17 members of the North Carolina delegation and all of them "took in" the Chicago attraction, en route home.

North Carolina was especially interested in the T. P. A. convention as Mr. Charles F. Tomlinson was presiding officer, and retired from the president's office, after receiving the highest commendations and after all the annual reports showing a marked increase in all departments of the T. P. A. Mr. Tomlinson was given a complimentary dinner by the North Carolina delegation. He was also presented with a handsome silver tea service by the national officers and the delegates from 37 states. Mr. Tomlinson's control of the convention was excellent, his rulings satisfactory, and his popularity increased. North Carolina has cause to be proud of his record as president of 57,000 travelers.

Mr. A. L. Byrd was made chairman of the resolutions committee and handled this difficult work with honor to himself and his state division. His reading was clear and heard easily over the hall. Mr. Byrd was put forward for the office of National director, and received a good vote, and is in line for the office next year. The local papers spoke highly of his convention work.

The entire North Carolina delegation were prominent in the convention, and received more than the State's proportion of appointments on committees. They appeared in an attractive uniform of white shoes and trousers, blue coat and tie and white felt hat with blue band, and were protected from the sun and the rain by parasols in the association's colors, blue and white. The State had its full delegation present, as follows: Messrs. Charles F. Tomlinson, of High Point, National president; Charles G. Lee, of Asheville, National committeeman; George S. Edwards, of Rocky Mount, State president; D. C. Crutchfield, of Winston-Salem, State secretary; Allen L. Byrd, of Charlotte, ex-State president; C. C. McLean, of Greensboro, and Burrell H. Marsh of Winston-Salem, State directors; J. J. Norman, of Winston-Salem; J. Lester Wolfe, of Charlotte; A. T. Wishart, of High Point; J. H. Niggel, Jr., of Wilmington; Henry T. Morris, of Henderson; George A. Bailey, of Mount Airy; C. L. Mosteller, of Hickory; Henry T. Blair, of North Wilkesboro; A. C. Bardin, of Wilson; D. H. Dixon, of Goldsboro, and D. L. Dixon, of Kinston. In addition to these, Master William Lee, of Asheville, who has been the State's mascot for eight years, was present in all his glory and renown, and Mrs. D. L. Dixon, of Kinston, accompanied her husband and added a decided element of pleasure to the trip.

The national officers chosen were Messrs. Dan W. Sale, of Virginia, president; H. R. Ramey, of Illinois, first vice president; G. W. Bell, of Brooklyn, second vice president; Frank Haag, of Missouri, third vice president; William E. Gapen, of Illinois, fourth vice president; James A. Carney, of Alabama, fifth vice president; T. Schuyler Logan, re-elected secretary-treasurer; Mr. E. L. Kerley, of Kentucky, was made chairman of good roads committee in place of Mr. Sale.

A total of 426 official delegates were present, and approximately 500 other attendants at the convention, many being ladies.

The ladies were shown many courtesies by the Lafayette T. P. A.'s and their wives and sweethearts, dances, card parties, etc., in continuous round being held.

The picnic to Frankfort, 30 miles away, by automobiles, was a grand closing. At Frankfort, the T. P. A. owns and keeps open the year round a public park and playground. And the members of the Frankfort post went over to Lafayette in 60 automobiles for their guests, being joined by many more from Lafayette. As Frankfort is a town of less than 12,000 population this park and entertainment of the T. P. A. convention shows the enterprise of the T. P. A.

The convention is always opened with a street parade. This year the North Carolina delegation held the post of honor at the head of the parade, and the State flag borne by Mr. J. Lester Wolfe, of Charlotte, and guarded by the mascot, Master William Lee, of Asheville (rather a Mutt and Jeff combination as to heights) was greeted vociferously all along the line of march.

The proposed amendments to the constitution were all defeated except four, that having dealt with routine only.

The magnificent fire works were highly praised, and gave great joy to the delegates and an immense crowd of citizens. The T. P. A. button in colored fire works was enthusiastically cheered.

The resolution of thanks to Lafayette, her citizens and organizations was hearty and adopted with shouts of approval.

All in all, the 1916 convention was pronounced a most successful and enjoyable one, a record-breaker in many ways, and a symbol of the good that T. P. A. is doing.

TO RUN SPECIAL TRAIN TO GOOD ROADS MEETING

Many Automobile Parties Expected to Come to Wilmington.

Dr. Pratt Wires That From One to Five Thousand Visitors Are Coming.

Many Entertaining Features Have Been Arranged.

"Expect one thousand to five thousand delegates, according to weather. Are coming from all over the State from Cherokee to Currituck." This wire was received yesterday by Mr. W. A. McGirt, chairman of the local committee on arrangements for the North Carolina Good Roads Convention at Wrightsville Beach this week, from Dr. Joseph Hyde Pratt, of Chapel Hill, secretary of the organization.

Judging from the letters that are being received from all parts of the State and the wide publicity that is being given to the convention, which will meet in the new auditorium at Wrightsville Beach on next Wednesday morning, there will be the largest number of visitors ever to attend a convention in this city.

The Atlantic Coast Line has arranged a run a special train from Fair Bluff and intermediate points on the W. C. & A. road on Thursday of this week, which will bring a large delegation of visitors to the convention. This train will leave Fair Bluff at 7:40 A. M., Chadbourn at 8:05 A. M.; Whiteville at 8:40 A. M., and Bolton at 9:10 A. M., arriving in Wilmington at 10:30 A. M. Returning the train will leave Wilmington at 8 P. M. Reduced rates have been put on for this train, the fare from Fair Bluff for the round trip being only $2.25, and from intermediate points correspondingly low rates.

Many automobile parties will come to the city for the convention, if the weather permits. Andrews and Bryson City in the western part of the State are planning to send automobiles through to Wilmington. They will come over the Asheville-Murphy scenic highway to Asheville and then either over the Central highway or the Asheville-Charlotte highway to Charlotte or Goldsboro and then over the Charlotte-Wilmington or Goldsboro-Wilmington highway to this city.

Dr. Pratt, secretary of the association, has written that he will come to Wilmington tomorrow night and will be here all day Tuesday to arrange with the local committees for the convention. He is most enthusiastic over the outlook for the convention and expects it to be the best ever held by the association.

A great deal of interest has been aroused in many of the counties in regard to the awards that are being offered for the largest attendance from a county at the convention and for the best exhibit illustrating the road work in a county. It is expected that there will be a splendid exhibit illustrating road work in the several counties. New Hanover county's exhibit will be the roads themselves, and those attending the meeting will be given the opportunity of inspecting and studying the methods of construction and maintenance of roads that are in force in this county.

The grand illuminated night parade which will take place on Friday night promises to be a very spectacular event. Representatives from counties, cities, commercial clubs and other organizations have been invited to bring flags, banners or something representative of their county or city to use in the parade. This will provide a splendid opportunity for counties and cities to advertise their resources.

The programme of the meeting has been so arranged that the delegates will have plenty of opportunity to go fishing, surf bathing and take part in the other attractions at Wrightsville Beach. There will be daily fishing trips outside under the auspices of the New Hanover Fishing Club. Boats will leave each morning at 5 o'clock. Bathing parties will be a feature every morning from 6 A. M. to 10 A. M.

On Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock there will be an entertainment given by the Wilmington Rotary Club at the Oceanic Hotel and Wednesday night at 8 o'clock there will be an informal "Get-Together" meeting at the hotels. An automobile trip has been arranged for Thursday morning for showing the delegates over the New Hanover roads. The automobiles will leave the city hall at 10 o'clock and following the trip there will be given a demonstration of treating roads. The delegates will be returned to the city in time to take cars to the beach for lunch. The others will be served at the Carolina Metal Products Company at noon. On Thursday afternoon at 5 o'clock there will be athletic events, races, etc., by the boys of the Wilmington Y. M. C. A. in front of the Oceanic Hotel.

It is to be much regretted that Chief Engineer Henry G. Shirley, of the State Roads Commission of Maryland, will not be able to be present at the convention and speak as he had expected. He writes that he would indeed have great pleasure in attending the convention but circumstances have arisen which will prevent his being there. Dr. Pratt, however, requested him to prepare a paper on maintenance which he will have read before the meeting and which promises to be one of the most interesting and valuable of those to be heard.

The Wilmington Highway Association is busy with its several committees in the interest of the Convention. The corating committee will have the interior of the large auditorium at Harbor Island decorated in gala attire, and inasmuch, as the city will be crowded with visitors, they request that the merchants have their places of business decorated.

Mr. W. H. Everett, in the interest of the Highway Association, will call on the merchants tomorrow and Tuesday and solicit orders. Many merchants have signified their willingness to dress their windows attractively during the convention days.

All the Red Men in Wilmington are requested to meet at the hall of Cherokee Tribe, on South Front street, tonight at 7:15 o'clock to go in a body to Dock Street Christian church to attend divine services. It was first proposed to have the delegation attend the services on Friday night of the past week, but owing to a misunderstanding it was postponed until tonight.

MAJ. D. O'CONNOR AND L. HEWLETT BADLY HURT

When Latter's Motorcycle Struck The Former

Both Were Crossing Street at Fifth and Market—Major O'Connor's Left Leg Broken—Each in Critical Condition.

As a result of a collision at Fifth and Market streets last night about 7 o'clock, Maj. Daniel O'Connor, for many years a prominent business man in Wilmington, who was crossing Fifth street on Market, had his left leg broken and suffered a severe cut on his head, and Mr. Leon Hewlett, 18 years old, a son of Mrs. R. H. Hewlett, No. 13 South Ninth street, who was riding a motorcycle south on Fifth street, was severely bruised about the head and rendered unconscious. So far as known last night, there were no other eye witnesses to the accident, both men being found shortly after the accident in an unconscious condition near the northeast corner of the two streets.

Major O'Connor was removed to his home, No. 11 South Fifth street, and physicians were hurriedly summoned to attend him. Drs. J. W. Hooper and J. C. Wessell responded, and when they discovered the serious nature of his injuries, a call was put in for the ambulance of the James Walker Memorial Hospital to which he was at once removed. From the position in which the men were found, it is thought that Major O'Connor must have been thrown several yards from the force of the collision.

Mr. Hewlett was picked up in a more serious condition possibly than that of Major O'Connor, by Mr. David L. Struthers, who heard the noise of the collision, and rushed in the latter's automobile to the James Walker Memorial Hospital, where at a late hour last night he had not yet regained consciousness. Although no broken bones were reported as having been sustained by Mr. Hewlett, he was very badly hurt about the head and the exact nature and seriousness of his injuries could not be determined by the physicians at that time.

Owing to Mr. O'Connor's advanced age of 82 years and the fact that both bones in his left leg half way between the knee and the ankle were broken, his condition is regarded as critical. He also sustained a severe gash on the head and a laceration of the left hand, besides numerous contusions and bruises about the body. So far as could be determined by the physicians last night there were no other bones besides his left leg that were fractured.

Mr. O'Connor was for many years engaged in the real estate business, but recently retired. The news of his painful injuries will be received with deep regret by his many friends in this city, all of whom will hope most sincerely that he may recover from the unfortunate accident. He had just been down town when the accident occurred and was returning to his home.

Mr. Hewlett is employed in the offices of the Atlantic Coast Line and enjoys the high esteem of all who know him. Mr. W. M. Hewlett, his brother, said last night that after making a thorough investigation of the circumstances he was sure that the accident was caused by the young man trying to avoid colliding with a passing automobile and that in putting on the brakes suddenly that the machine was caused to skid. Mr. Hewlett said that when he found the machine in the street that the brakes were broken and would not work.

TWO NEW PULLMAN LINES

Improved Service to Asheville From Wilmington Over the A. C. L.

There will be inaugurated today two daily Pullman car lines into and out of Wilmington, one of which is entirely new. Last season there was a Pullman car line operated from Florence to Asheville and from Asheville to Wilmington, three times a week for a short time, which was the first through service ever had between Wilmington and the mountain resorts. This season, beginning today this line is to be inaugurated through between Wilmington and Asheville in both directions, and will run daily via the Atlantic Coast Line between Wilmington and Columbia and the Southern Railway between the latter point and Asheville.

The schedule will be as follows: Leave Wilmington at 3:45 p. m. and arrive Asheville at seven o'clock the next morning. Leave Asheville at 8:00 p. m. and arrive in Wilmington at 12:50 in the afternoon the next day.

The other line is the long established summer parlor car line between Wilmington and Greensboro, which will, as during former seasons, leave Wilmington at 8:45 a. m. and reach Greensboro at 4:45 p. m. Returning this car will leave Greensboro at 12:45 noon and reach Wilmington at 8 o'clock the same evening. The train will continue to be operated solid between Wilmington and Mt. Airy and run via the Atlantic Coast Line and the Southern Railway, via Sanford.

It is announced by the Atlantic Coast Line in promulgating the information regarding these Pullman lines that the new service will afford comfortable accommodations for passengers visiting the seashore and likewise the mountain resorts.

THIEF RETURNS PURSE

Stolen, It is Said, While Delivering Week's Wash.

Her week's washing done for Mrs. Osborn, of No. 414 Dock street, Mary Faison, colored, gave it to her boy and another colored boy to deliver at Mrs. Osborn's residence yesterday morning. Shortly after the two colored boys had left Mrs. Osborn missed her pocketbook which contained two dollars, and notified the police of the circumstances. Plainclothesman D. W. Coleman visited the Faison woman's home and told that her boy and the other negro would be arrested unless the money was returned, as the police had good reason to believe that one or the other of them had stolen the purse.

Later in the day, Mrs. Osborn heard her two-year-old child which was standing in the hallway talking to some one who was in the kitchen. She called and asked who it was, and upon receiving no answer proceeded to investigate. She asked the child then, who is just barely able to say a few words, who it was and he answered, "a boy" and pointed to something that had been slipped under the cupboard. It was the pocketbook and the money, evidently returned by whoever had stolen it.

Y. P. U., of the Tabernacle church, Raleigh.

The programme provides for only half a day each, except the evening sessions, for Friday and Saturday. It was the purpose to allow ample time for recreation, and the convention may decide whether the day sessions will be held in the forenoon or in the afternoon.

The banner which has been held the past year by the Union of Calvary church, Wilmington, is again to be awarded to the Union which makes the highest rating on the standard of excellence, and the two additional features adopted by the North Carolina Commitee, namely, Biblical Recorder readers and having a Junior Union. Certainly among the A-1 Unions the question will be: Which will go highest above the Standard? The convention will appoint a commitee to award the banner, which will take the written reports sent to the General Secretary, Mr. J. D. Moore, of Raleigh, and make out their report according to their findings in them. All Unions making above 75 per cent. rating on the standard will be enrolled as honor unions by the convention.

The joint meeting on Sunday afternoon next will be one of the most notable of the convention. At that meeting Dr. B. W. Spillman and Secretary Flake will make an address. This meeting will make the close of the B. Y. P. U. Convention of the opening of the convention of Organized Classes which will continue through Monday, June 26th.

Each Baptist church in North Carolina is entitled to one representative, whether it has a B. Y. P. U. or not and each Junior and Senior B. Y. P. U. is entitled to one delegate for every 20 members. Delegates will be provided with homes in Wilmington, if they will send their names to Mr. Coy Hewlett, No. 308 South Seventh street, who is chairman of the Entertainment committee. The greatly reduced railroad rates from all parts of the State are expected to result in a large attendance.

The convention this year although it meets in Wilmington will be held in connection with the Baptist Seaside Assembly at Wrightsville Beach. Many of the delegates will attend both gatherings.

The Don Richardson Orchestra will give two concerts at Lumina today. (advertisement.)

THIS WILL STOP YOUR HAIR FROM FALLING

It was Dr. Sangerbund who first discovered that dandruff and falling hair were caused by microbes.

And now that Parisian Sage, the wonderfully delightful preparation that kills the dandruff germs can be secured at all drug and toilet counters, the clean people of this country have awakened to the fact that dandruff is unnecessary; that falling hair and itching scalp can be quickly stopped, and that anyone who frequently uses Parisian Sage should never grow bald.

To every reader who wishes to eradicate disgusting dandruff, stop falling hair, and have an immaculately clean scalp free from itchiness, we strongly recommend Parisian Sage.

Parisian Sage is sold for not more than 50 cents a large bottle. It is an ideal, daintily perfumed liquid, free from grease and stickiness, and will cause hair to grow lustrous and luxuriant. R. R. Bellamy always has a large supply and guarantees it to you.

MR. WEATHERBY CELEBRATES HOTEL OPENING AT JUNALUSKA

Lake Junaluska, N. C., June 17.—Mr. C. E. Weatherby celebrated the opening of his hotel, "The Providence," yesterday by a reception given to the residents of the Lake and the visiting Knights of Pythias just ending their convention at Waynesville. Between the hours of 2:30 and 4 P. M. the rapidly arriving cars from Waynesville brought scores of K. of P. who were warmly welcomed by Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Weatherby, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Bowden, Mrs. M. H. Johnson, Miss Pattie Shine and Mr. V. J. Williams.

During the afternoon delicious refreshments were served. From the hotel the visitors proceeded to the Lake, where a lovely ride on the "Conaguska" awaited them. The trip around the lake afforded an opportunity to see the splendid views of the Junaluska settlement, which is only reaching its fourth year. BEAUTIFUL CHURCH WEDDING CELEBRATED AT GOLDSBORO

Goldsboro, N. C., June 17.—One of the very prettiest weddings ever witnesed in Goldsboro was that of Miss Sara Wooten and Mr. Frank McDowell, in the First Presbyterian church Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The lovely edifice was beautiful as a poet's dream of love in its bounteous decorations, so artistic in arrangement and so expressive in design that sentiment found complete satisfaction in the sweet harmony of the scene, while the great pipe organ under the deft touch of Miss Daisy Brown, merging its tones with the violin's voice under the bow of Miss Lucia Privett and the sweet notes of Mrs. McCarthy Hanger in song, left nothing to be desired but that the breathing sentient harmony might go on forever.

The universal popularity of the lovely young bride in this city, her home, was evidenced by the great congregation that thronged the church to witness her nuptials, and the substantial esteem in which both the bride and groom are held by their especial friends was manifested in the bewildering galaxy of bridal presents of which they were the recipients, and which the many callers at the post nuptial reception Wednesday night at the bride's home so much enjoyed viewing. The bridesmaids and groomsmen were as follows: Miss Hattie Wooten, sister of the bride, with Mr. Cooper Young, of Raleigh; Miss Katie Moore, of Washington, N. C., with Mr. T. R. Boyd, of Norfolk, Va.; Miss Sara Michaux with Mr. J. J. Lane, of Wilson, N. C.; Miss Grace McDowell, of Charlotte; dith Mr. Wm. Little ,of Wadesboro, N. C.; Miss Mary Cleves Daniels with Mr. George K. Freeman; Miss Ruth Bizzell with Mr. L. P. McClendon, of Durham; Maids of Honor—Misses Vivian and Mary Wooten, sisters of the bride; Best man—Mr. R. E. McDowell, of Charlotte, brother of the groom. Ushers: Messrs. W. O. Payne and James Powell.

The processional was lovely, all the bridesmaids being daintily gowned and carrying shower bouquets and wearing picture hats, and the grouping at the altar was a scene that would give inspiration to a poet.

The bride was given away by her brother, Mr. Richard Wooten, and the ceremony was impressively spoken by the pastor of the church, Rev. Peter McIntyre.

Immediately afterwards followed a most hospitable reception at the bride's home on James street, north, where the entire bridal party were in the receiving line and where, indeed, "all went merry as a marriage bell," and the callers were many to express their congratulations and good wishes.

Following the reception the happy bride and groom boarded the north bound train for an extended bridal trip to Atlantic City and other pleasure resorts, taking with them the abiding good wishes of their hosts of friends.

The following were the out-of-town guests here for the happy occasion: Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Wooten, Mrs. R. E. Wooten, Miss Elizabeth Wooten, Mr. Robert Wooten, of Mt. Olive; Mr. A. S. Copeland, Misses Hattie and Catherine Copeland, Margaret Goodson, Agnes Quinley and Hattie B. Copeland, of Kinston; Mr. Howell Smith of Raleigh; Miss Katie Leak, Wadesboro, Mrs. W. G. McIlwain, City Point, Va.; Mrs. John McDowell, Richmond, Va.; Mr. R. A. Wooten, City Point, Va.; Miss Sara Wooten, LaGrange.

RECEPTION AT MT. OLIVE IN HONOR OF BRIDE-TO-BE.

Mount Olive, N. C., June 17.—On Tuesday evening, at her beautiful new home, Mrs. G. A. Spivey was hostess at a charming reception given in honor of Miss Hazel Lambert, who, on June 20th, is to become the bride of Mr. William Ernest Ormond, of Goldsboro.

The Spivey home was brilliantly illuminated, and everywhere an abundance of June flowers were in evidence, converting the house into a bower of beauty and fragrance.

On the front porch the guests were greeted and welcomed by Mesdames S. A. Byrd and H. J. Pope, who introduced them to the hostess and honoree. At the front door, Mrs. R. C. Kornegay received and conducted the guests into the parlor, where Mrs. Colin Shaw Smith, Misses Ellen McPhail and Addie Belle Royal were in charge of the guest book, into which were written the heart-felt good wishes of the bride-to-be's host of friends. The punch bowl, situated in attractive nook in the piazza, was presided over by Mrs. M. C. S. Cherry and Miss Mary McGee, the while a bevy of young maids and matrons standing around, made merry with toast for the prospective bride.

Beautiful music added to the enjoyment of the occasion—two vocal solos by Miss Nina McCall and instrumental selections by Misses Ellen McPhail and Katherine Knowles. Recitations by Misses Mary Steele and Katherine McLean also delighted the guests.

The dining room was artistically decorated with white lilies and trailing Southern smilax, over which fell the soft glow of candle light. Delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. W. C. Steele and Miss Lucy Davis, assisted by Misses Mary Steele and Katherine McLean.

As the guests were leaving the dining room, the honoree was showered with a beautiful array of dainty hand made lingerie and linens of every description, which attest the lofty place she holds in the hearts of the people of Mount Olive.

This was undoubtedly one of the most delightful social events of the season.

MISS MAGGIE SANFORD FLOYD BRIDE OF MR. PAUL L. VUTTUR

Fairmont, N. C., June 15.—One of the prettiest weddings of the season here was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Boyd at 6:30 o'clock Monday evening, when their daughter Miss Maggie Sanford Floyd, became the bride of Mr. Paul Ludwig Vittur, of Chicago. The halls were beautifully decorated in ferns and hydrangias, while the parlor, where the vows were spoken, was transformed into a woodlawn bower of ferns and ivy with white peonies. Only the relatives and closest friends of the bride and groom were present.

Just before the ceremony, Miss Mildred McCubbins at the piano played a selection from Rossini's Stabat Mater. At 6:30 the Wedding March from Lohengrin was heard and the bride and groom entered, preceded by little Miss Graynham as ringbearer, who was charming in her lingerie dress and wore a gold chain and pendant, gift of the groom. The bride was beautiful in her traveling suit of dark blue taffeta and serge with small black hat trimmed in flowers and fruit. She wore a corsage bouquet of gardenas and lilies of the valley. Rev. B. C. Stanfield, pastor of the bride, officiated, using the impressive double ring ceremony of the Methodist church, while McDowell's "To a Wild Rose" and "To a Water Lily" were softly rendered. After the benediction the bridal party left the parlor to the strains of Mendelsohn's Wedding March, and an informal reception was held. An hour later the young couple left in an automobile for Dillon, S. C., where they took the train for Chicago.

The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Smith Floyd and is one of Fairmont's most attractive and accomplished young women. She is a graduate of Louisburg College and for several years has been a most successful teacher. Her charming manner and noble character have won her a host of friends everywhere, whose love and best wishes for a joyous and happy life follow her to her new home.

BANNERMAN-NOEL WEDDING AT WARSAW OF MUCH INTEREST

Warsaw, N. C., June 17.—The spacious home of Mr. and Mrs. Faison Peirce on College street was aglow with lights and converted into a bower of loveliness with potted plants Saturday evening in celebration of the marriage of their neice, Miss Fannie Noel, of Lexington, Miss., to Mr. John A. LOCKS AND DAMS INSPECTED

Party from Fayetteville Returns From Trip Up the River With Captain Ridley.

Tremendously impressed with the magnitude and effectiveness of the work going on for the canalization of the Cape Fear river between here and Fayetteville, following a trip of inspection of the locks and dams with Capt. C. S. Ridley, U. S. A. engineer in charge, Messrs. Thomas H. Sutton, Fred D. Hale, D. U. Sandlin and L. Gentry left yesterday morning for their homes in the upper Cape Fear Metropolis, having spent the night in Wilmington after making the trip up and down the river.

These four gentlemen made the trip as representatives of the Fayetteville chamber of commerce at the invitation of Captain Ridley. Mr. Sutton is president of the Fayetteville chamber of commerce and the other three are representative business men of the city. Concerning the trip and the impressions gained from it, the Fayetteville Observer of yesterday afternoon has the following, which will be of interest here and throughout the Cape Fear section:

"The party from the Chamber of Commerce, composed of President Thomas H. Sutton, Fred T. Hale, D. U. Sandlin and L. Gentry, who went down at the invitation of Captain Ridley to view the work going on for the canalization of the Cape Fear river above Wilmington, returned on the noon train today from Wilmington. They report a most delightful and instructive trip. They are tremendously impressed with the magnitude and effectiveness of the work being done.

"They sailed for Wilmington on Thursday morning at 8:30 with Captain Ridley on the government yacht Mercur, going through the lower lock at King's Bluff, and arrived at Brown's Landing, where the upper lock is under construction, at 4 o'clock that afternoon, where they spent the evening viewing the work in every detail which is being pushed rapidly to completion by the able engineer in charge on the ground. Captain Matthewson. They spent the night there aboard the Mercur, and were delightfully entertained during the evening by Captain Matthewson and his wife, returning to Wilmington yesterday afternoon.

"The first dam and locks, at King's Bluff, 39 miles above Wilmington, are completed and boats are going through regularly. The second and last dam and locks, at Brown's Landing, 32 miles further up the river, two miles below Elizabethtown, are half completed with all provision made for a speedy finish, the steel gates in sections are on the ground, cement and steel piling for the dam and nearly all materials on hand.

"Both Captain Ridley, the engineer in charge of this district, and Captain Matthewson, the officer in immediate command of the work, say that the whole project will be completed this year, probably before Christmas, leaving only some dredging to be done this winter, which will be carried on by the dredger which is now at King's Bluff. The work on the locks at Brown's Landing is being carried on night and day, using the most up-to-date methods and machinery, using a crew of between 125 and 150 men. It is a most impressive sight and one which should not be missed while the work is under construction by anyone who can possibly make the trip—and it is an easy one from Fayetteville. It is essentially a duplicate of the Panama Canal locks on a small scale.

"The locks at both places are built along the western bank of the river. The dam at King's Bluff is 275 feet wide, and its crest is 8 1-2 feet above water level below. The dam at Brown's Landing will be 12 feet above the low water river level below. The chambers of the locks are the same at both places—200 feet long and 40 feet wide in the clear, between the gates.

"A boat sailing up the river enters the chamber through the lower set of gates, which are swung back into recesses in the concrete walls, and the gates being closed behind it, water is turned into the chamber by means of valves in the upper gates, which gradually raises the vessel up to the level of the river above the dam, when the upper gates are swung back and it sails off on the leel above. One set of gates must be closed all the time, as these huge steel doors form, in effect, part of the dam.

"The whole process of passage through the locks consumes only 20 minutes.

"The weather was cloudy and showery, precluding the possibility of photographing the works. The party is enthusiastic in its appreciation of the courteous treatment and delightful trip accorded them by Captain Ridley, and express the regret, which we all feel, at the announcement of his transfer from this port."

HANDSOME DONATION MADE

Citizen Contributes One Hundred Dollars for Milk Station, Which is to be Established Soon.

A contribution of $100 in cash by a public spirited citizen to be used in the purchase of milk for the milk station, which it is expected will be established in the basement of the Court House within the next ten days, has been received by the special committee of North Carolina Sorosis, which has been soliciting funds for this worthy institution. This committee, of which Mrs. John Thames is chairman, has secured sufficient funds with which to start the station and the equipment will be installed at an early date.

Miss Christie Pinner, public health nurse, will be in charge of the station, which is to be operated under the direction of the Health Department. It is stated that at the present time there is an unusual demand for milk in the city and that the dairies are unable to supply all the calls made upon them. However, it is not thought that this will materially interfere with the operation of the milk station.

Upon a prescription of a physician attending a baby, whose parents are unable to purchase milk, amounts sufficient for the needs of the child will be dispensed in certified drinking bottles, at the depot, free of charge. No provisions have yet been made for furnishing milk moderated for particular cases to the families of means.

TO GIVE CONCERT AT BEACH

Will Be Presented on July 1 by Wilming Choral Society Under Direction of Miss Chasten.

The first concert to be given in the handsome new auditorium on Harbor Island at Wrightsville Beach will be that on the evening of July 1 by the members of the Wilmington Choral Society under the direction of Miss Cannie Chasten. The society was recently organized in this city with a membership of 50 of the best musicians in Wilmington. Mr. E. H. Munson is conductor for the new organization.

The concert to be given on the evening of July 1 will be one of the leading features of the Baptist Seaside Assembly. A similar concert was given at the Assembly last year by Wilmington musicians and was a great success from every standpoint. With a large and handsome auditorium ideally arranged for such events, it is expected that the concert this year will be even better. The auditorium has a seating capacity of 2,000 and it is expected that every seat will be occupied for this big musical event.

Dr. Hubert McN. Poteat, professor of Latin at Wake Forest College, who is one of the best baritones in North Carolina, will take part in the concert as will Miss Katherine Campbell Johnson, a member of the faculty of Meredith College, who is said to possess a contralto voice of unusual beauty of tone. Mrs. Meares Harriss, of this city, who is a gifted violinist, will also take part in the programme.

Miss Chasten, who will be the director, has had charge of a number of chorus recitals in this city, and has always been highly successful in her work. Mr. Munson has had wide experience in choral work and his services will be of great help in getting up the programme.

Coming to Wrightsville Beach for Pharmaceutical Convention.

A large delegation of Charlotte druggists are coming to Wilmington Monday to attend the Pharmaceutical Convention this week, according to yesterday's Charlotte Observer, which says:

"Treasurer G. E. Burwell and a large delegation of local druggists will leave Monday for Wilmington to attend the 37th annual convention of the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association, that will be in session at Wrightsville Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. The official headquarters will be at the Oceanic Hotel and the sessions will be held there: Messrs. J. P. Stowe, D. A. McLaughlin and other Charlotte druggists will attend. Meeting with the association is an auxiliary organization recruited from among the traveling men who deal with and sell to the druggists. Mr. L. Kuhn of this city is vice president."

—Among the arrivals at the Hotel Wilmington yesterday were: Messrs. R. R. Sanders, R. R. Rogers, and J. E. Meador, Reidsville; J. E. Gallion, Goldsboro; Joseph G. Fitzsimmons, Charlotte; L. W. Wilson, Apex; P. W. Vaughn, Durham; A. M. Lucas, Councils; Roy F. Clapp, Fort Caswell; T. E. Lewis, Fort Caswell; A. L. DeLuca, Bowden; P. M. Williams, Wallace.

TWO TROLLEY CARS COLLIDE

Several Passengers Shaken Up and Bruised When Accident Occurred Beyond Greenfield Lake.

Several passengers who were en route to the baseball game at Sunset Park yesterday afternoon were rather badly shaken up when the car in which they were riding suddenly collided with an incoming trolley car on the curve just south of Greenfield Lake, about a mile south of the city. Both cars were put out of commission, the incoming car having rather the worse of it with a platform that was mashed to pieces.

Motorman T. B. Robinson was in charge of the outgoing car on which were a number of passengers and forgot that there was already a car out on the single track, the latter having been an extra one put on because of the baseball game. There is a siding at Greenfield lake for cars and when they are operated on a ten-minute schedule, cars pass at this point. However, on a 20-minute schedule, the one ordinarily in use, there are no cars to pass at this point. Motorman A. Lewandokski was in charge of the incoming car and was making good time in order to reach the siding when the accident occurred.

Mrs. J. L. Ferguson, of Anderson, S. C., who is visiting Mrs. P. F. Morris, No. 1021 South Sixth street, had both legs bruised up and her brother, Mr. J. W. Brown had one of his little fingers dislocated and also one of the bones in his hand broken. Young William Grant, Jr., whose father lives on the Carolina Beach road, suffered a painful contusion on the left side of his forehead. Mr. Ed White, who was en route to Sunset Park to play baseball, had his right leg cut and it was necessary for his physician, Dr. G. E. Bowdoin, to take six stitches. There were several others who were shaken up and bruised somewhat. All of those injured were taken to their homes.

As soon as it was learned that there had been an accident, the Tidewater Power Company summoned Drs. G. H. Croom and Houston Moore to the scene to render surgical aid to those who were hurt. Both cars were disabled and had to be towed to the shops for repairs.

Owing to the fact that the Tidewater Power Company recently had two of its cars burned, the disabling of two additional ones caused a slight inconvenience to its schedules. Two new cars were recently ordered from Philadelphia but will not arrive until about the middle of July. However, everything was soon gotten in running order again and the usual prompt service maintained.

A. & M. ALUMNI TO MEET

Important Meeting of New Hanover Association Monday Afternoon.

College, of Raleigh, on Monday afternoon at 6:15 o'clock in the office of the president of the association, Mr. J. L. Becton, in the Odd Fellows' building, and all members of the organization as well as any other alumni in the city are urged to attend the meeting. Mr. George Gillette is secretary of the association.

The following deeds were filed for registration yesterday: H. B. Williams et al., to J. T. Brown and wife, for $100 and other considerations, tract of land in Masonboro township; George F. Clark and wife to Wise Merrick, for $270, lot on west side of Fourteenth street, 187 feet south of Castle, 33 by 155 feet in size; Harriet E. Winslow and husband to Mrs. D. W. Bullock, for $10 and other considerations, lot at Carolina Place.

It Spurs Men to Energetic Efforts

"I use the Long Distance Telephone constantly. It speeds up my business and spurs the other men to action because they are brought face to face with me.

"The cost is nothing as compared to the effective results. One telephone message accomplishes more than five letters for me and both customers and salesmen feel as though they have paid a personal visit to the office.

"We have adopted the practice of calling delinquent customers on the Long Distance Telephone. It's more effective than a letter or visit from a salesman. We have improved our collections wonderfully by a judicious use of the Long Distance Bell Telephone."

NORTH CAROLINA BAPTIST LEADERS URGE ATTENDANCE AT WRIGHTSVILLE BEACH

In Seaside Assembly Edition of the Biblical Recorder, Representatives of the Denomination, in Special Articles, Point Out the Good Things on Programme for June 26-July 2.

In the June 14th issue of the Biblical Recorder, organ of the North Carolina Baptist State Convention, were published a number of articles from leading men of the denomination concerning the Baptist Seaside Assembly, to be held at Wrightsville Beach June 26 to July 2. The issue of the Recorder was a splendid "Seaside Assembly Special" and contained articles on this subject by the following prominent and influential Baptists:

Rev. Dr. John Jeter Hurt, of Durham, president of the Assembly and pastor of the First Baptist church, of Wilmington, after July 1; Rev. Dr. Livingston Johnson, pastor of the Firse Baptist church of Rocky Mount and for fifteen years corresponding secretary of the Baptist State Convention; Rev. Dr. Walter N. Johnson, of Raleigh, present corresponding secretary; Rev. Chas. L. Greaves, pastor of the First Baptist church of Lumberton; Mr. E. L. Middleton, general secretary of the Assembly; Hon. John A. Oates, of Fayetteville, president of the Baptist State Convention; Mrs. W. N. Jones, of Raleigh, president of the Baptist Women's Missionary Union of North Carolina; Rev. J. A. Campbell, principal of Buie's Creek Academy and one of the leading country pastors of the denomination in the State and others.

Secretary Middleton gives "A Final Word About the Assembly," including the official programme and general information. He says: "We make a final appeal to our Baptist people to help us make the Assembly a great success. We print in this issue appeals from prominent workers and leaders in our denominational life. Be sure to read what they say.

"There are three meetings overlapping each other—the B. Y. P. U. Convention, June 22-25; the Organized Class Convention, June 25-26; and the Assembly, June 26-July 2. At the three meetings we ought to have 1,000 people."

"The Best Assembly Yet."

Dr. J. J. Hurt, writing under the caption, "The Best Assembly Yet," says:

"North Carolina Baptists are sometimes slow, but when they do arrive they bring themselves with them and they come to stay. We are about the last of the Southern States to establish a Seaside Assembly, for instance. But we are determined to make ours quite equal to any in the South. There is not a better spot anywhere than Wrightsville Beach for such a meeting place, and the thousands of dollars being spent there now in the way of permanent improvement will give us facilities second to none.

"The Virginians have had a summer assembly at Virginia Beach for the past ten years. Last season their bona fide enrollment was well beyond the one thousand mark. North Carolina has a hundred thousand more Baptists than Virginia and we can do as well as she. Our enrollment last year at Wrightsville Beach was not so large that it could not be counted, and yet it was nearly twice as large as the enrollment at Virginia's first Assembly. The railroad authorities have given personal assurance to the writer that they will stand by this movement if we mean business. The interurban railway company which runs from Wilmington to the Beach is now erecting a fifteen thousand dollar auditorium, at our instigation but at their expense. This will be ours as long as we want it each year. Other states have had to erect their own auditoriums.

"Every prospect is pleasing for us. Secretary Middleton has worked up a programme that is strong enough to instruct a theological professor and interesting enough to hold the attention of a Sunday school boy. The railroads have granted rates far lower than is customary for meetings of this class. The Tidewater Power Company is working every hour to complete the fifteen thousand dollar auditorium. The committee on hotels and boarding houses have secured special rates for the week. Everything will be ready when June 25 comes.

"Let the elect ladies be getting their white dresses and beach paraphernalia in good condition. Let the men purchase two or three extra negligee shirts. Everybody will want a bathing suit, but those who do not possess them will be able to rent them at the bath houses for twenty-five cents. We will plunge into the depths of theology, Sunday school pedagogy, Biblical history, and the like during the morning hours; we will plunge in the depths of the ocean blue, fill our mouths with the briny water, and the like during the afternoon hours; and then we will skim along on the surface of things with the popular lecturers and entertainers an hour or two in the evening."

"All Aboard," Says Mr. Oates.

"All Aboard for Wrightsville Beach,' is the admonition given by John A. Oates, Esq., who writes:

"The good things offered at the Baptist Seaside Assembly this summer are so attractive that I want to make an appeal to our Baptist people to attend this wonderful meeting.

"It begins June 25 and closes July 2. The programme includes speakers, all the way from Baltimore to Texas. There are nearly twenty speakers on the programme—and they are experts too.

"This is an age of special training—every profession has its annual meeting for study and conference. This means increased efficiency and increased service.

"The Organized Class Convention, the Pastors' Conference, the W. M. U. Department, and the Biblical Chautauqua offer a feast of good things that the progressive worker cannot afford to miss.

"Added to this is the splendid social feature, with the rest and recreation which one gets in such abundance at the seashore. The railroad and hotel rates have been reduced for this meeting. Our annual conventions are confined, of necessity, almost exclusively to business, and there is not sufficient time to give to the kind of work which is done at the Seaside Assembly. Those who went last year were abundantly pleased and we expect to see them back again this year, and bringing their friends with them. If you did not go begin now to make arrangements to take this trip and combine pleasure and profit to the greatest advantage. This is just the meeting that our denomination has been needing for years, and it is going to mean for us larger information and greater efficiency."

Dr. Livingston Johnson.

Dr. Livingston Johnson urges attendance in the following:

"Those who attended the Assembly which was held at Wrightsville last summer, are unanimous in their opinion that it was one of the most helpful meetings of the year. Pastors, Sunday school and B. Y. P. U. workers, and those who went for recreation, all found the very things they needed.

"I wish to urge the pastors who can possibly do so, to attend this meeting. The course of lectures delivered by Dr. McGlothlin last year, would have made the meetings well worth while if there had been nothing else on the programme. Though these lectures were from the Baptist viewpoint, they were attended by Episcopalian, Presbyterian and Methodist preachers and leading laymen from all denominations, who all expressed their pleasure at having heard this course of lectures, and joined with their Baptist brethren in a hearty invitation to Dr. McGlothlin to come to this Assembly as one of the lecturers this summer.

"The committee on programme announce that Dr. McGlothlin will be one of the principal lecturers this year. His course will run through the entire meeting, and every pastor who attends should arrange, if possible, to stay through the meeting, and take in all these lectures. It is important, of course, that our pastors attend the business meetings of the denomination, such as Associations and Conventions; but it is equally important that they attend at least one meeting a year which is instructive and inspirational. That is exactly what the Seaside Assembly is, and every pastor who attends will come back refreshed and strengthened in body, mind and soul and prepared to take hold of his work with a new grip."

"It is going to be a great time at Wrightsville in June," declares Dr. W. N. Johnson, who writes: "Attend the Seaside Assembly if you can. This Assembly makes four appeals for the presence of a North Carolina Baptist:

"It is a chance to get some recreation that uplifts the soul.

"Let us rejoice that we are now going to the resort places with meetings of this kind; and that, too, early in the resort season. The atmosphere in many of our resorts in the mountains and by the sea is such that some of our young Christians never recover from the effects of a short stay at one of them. Recreation of the body becomes a dissipation of the soul.

"This trip to Wilmington will give a few days off from the regular grind of life's monotony in such a way that we shall not only have the rest from our labors but we shall gather new strength and deeper motive with which to go back to our work. If we keep giving the devil our rest time, the Lord is not going to get very much of our work time.

"Why should we not pour into this Assembly with such attendance that the whole Baptist work of the State will feel the thrill of the meeting. Why should there not be kindled such a fervor in our meetings at the seaside that the flavor and the restraint of it each year will be felt at the famous resort all through the resort season?

To Get the "Second Wind"

In his brief article, Rev. C. L. Greaves tells "Where to Get the 'Second Wind,'" as follows:

"Expert runners say that after the first spurt of the race they often have the feeling that they are all in, and cannot possibly hold out until the end of the race is reached. Then they suddenly get what they call the 'second wind' and find it possible to run with ease and assurance again.

"There are multitudes of Sunday school workers and pastors who are all fagged out, dead tired, wind all spent, enthusiasm all gone; brave and persevering, consecrated and competent, determined to die on the race course if not crowned at the goal, yet falling and fainting for want of the 'second wind.'

The Baptist Seaside Assembly is the place for the jaded runner to get his 'second wind.' There will be new ideas, new appreciations of old truths, new methods of work, new voices, all to enhearten and encourage. The annual recurrence of this meeting is sure to be of incalculable benefit to this section of the State as well as to regions more remote. The writer hopes there will be many representatives from his church and from all the Robeson churches.

"The programme is a rich one, displaying some of the best talent in our Southland. Why run away to far off encampments under independent Wrightsville in one of the State and Ridgecrest in the other? We shall never have anything great until we realize that we have men with brains and consecration to equal those of any other section. Give our own competent men and women a show, and we shall have summer schools and encampments in the South superior to those anywhere else in the world. Moreover, they will be straight Baptist and to attend them will strengthen the denominational back-bone instead of making invertebrates of us. All aboard for the seaside in sunny June!"

Opportunity for Country Baptists

Rev. J. A. Campbell, of Buie's Creek, writes from the standpoint of the rural pastor and says:

"Let one of your number make a plea for the North Carolina Baptist living in the country to attend the Baptist Seaside Assembly at Wrightsville:

"1. For Our Sake. Out in the backwoods as many of us are, we need the meeting even more than the town and city brother.

"2. For the sake of our Churches. We have the important places in our State and denominational life. Save all the country, develop all country churches and we shall soon have the world won.

"For Christ's Sake. If the gathering is for His sake we owe it to Him and His cause to go to the meeting. If it does not mean His glory our denomination ought not to commit itself to the task.

"Many things hinder us country brethren from going:

"1. We are not in the habit of going. 2. We are not so convenient to the railroad. 3. We do not handle as much money as some others. 4. Going once a month to our churches, as many of us do, we cannot spare the time, we feel.

"But we can brush aside all of these hindrances with one of the above reasons for going. We need it, our churches need it, Christ needs it. The money and time will be well spent, telling in the life of our churches. One man or woman from every country church would make marvelous changes for good in our State."

Appeal to Sunday School Workers

Rev. W. C. Barrett, of Gastonia, North Carolina member of the Sunday school board of the Southern Baptist Convention, makes an appeal to Sunday school workers, in which he says:

"We are approaching the period in the year when many of us seek to rest from our regular toils of life. It can be said to the credit of our denominational leaders that they have provided for the Baptists of North Carolina to attend the very best summer resort in this part of the country with great profit as well as pleasure. Through this arrangement the expenses have been greatly reduced, provisions have also been made for the best amusement and entertainment without any risk to Christian character. The associations are perhaps one of the most attractive features connected with these meetings. Among those who attend will be the warmest and strongest characters in the denomination. In addition to these attractions the very best instruction that ca nbe had for Baptist people have been provided for.

"The Baptist Seaside Assembly at Wrightsville Beach near Wilmington will be held this year, June 25 to July 2. It follows immediately on the close of the B. Y. P. U. State Convention, making it possible for those who atend the convention to remain for the Assembly without extra traveling expense. We would urge that every delegate to the convention make arrangements to remain over for the Assembly, for those who are interested in B. Y. P. U. work are also interested in other phases of our work.

"On Sunday afternoon, June 25, there will be a joint meeting of the convention and the Assembly. The subject before the meeting will be the "Organized Classes." The speakers will be Secretary Arthur Flake, of Mississippi, and Dr. B. W. Spilman, of North Carolina. This is a live question of great importance to the denomination at this time and should be handled with greatest wisdom."

BUNCOMBE AND VANCE FIGHT AGAINST TYPHOID

Whole-Time Health Officers Conduct Campaign and Give Free Treatment.

Raleigh, N. C., June 17.—Buncombe and Vance counties are again conducting anti-typhoid campaigns under the direction of their whole-time county health officers. Dr. D. C. Absher, health officer of Vance county, started off the campaign last Saturday in Henderson by vaccinating fifty or more people. He says that 3,000 persons took the treatment last summer and that he expects even a much larger number to take advantage of this means of protecting themselves from typhoid fever this summer. Dr. Absher says further that the places and dates of his appointments are about fixed and that he is now ready to push the campaign with success.

Dr. D. E. Sevier, health officer of Buncombe county, is now closing a six weeks' campaign against typhoid fever and, according to his daily reports to the State Board of Health, he is accomplishing results. Doctor Sevier tells his people that typhoid fever is the easiest thing in the world to get and the easiest thing in the world to prevent. He gives the treatment to both white and colored people.

The Asheville Times that supports all health matters pertaining to its people, says of the results of the vaccine treatment against typhoid:

"Not so many years ago cases of typhoid were frequent in Buncombe county, the disease was prevalent even in the city of Asheville, where sanitary conditions were of the best. Then came the typhoid vaccine as a preventive measure. The typhoid situation has been completely changed. Of all the typhoid cases in Buncombe county last year, not a single victim had been vaccinated to prevent the fever. Never in the county have there been any bad results from the use of vaccine."

WILSON COMPANY GETTING READY

Militia to be Brought up to "War Strength" at Once.

(Special Star Correspondence).

Wilson, N. C., June 17.—Orders have been received by Captain L. D. Giddens to bring Wilson Light Infantry to full war strength and to further organize a "reserve company" of 75 men who will volunteer for active service if needed. This reserve force is to be men who can stand the regular examination. The Wilson company has a number of applications and only twelve vacancies and Captain Giddens thinks it will be little trouble to comply with the orders.

Wilson, June 17.—Arthur Lamm, a white man, who conducts a store several miles from Wilson was arrested Friday afternoon by local police and at the same time the officers took possession of 108 pint and six quart bottles of whiskey. Lamm went to Petersburg through the country with an automobile several days ago and returned Friday. The suspicions of the police led to a search of the premises and the discovery of the liquor.

THAT BAD BACK

Do you have a dull, steady ache in the small of the back—sharp, stabbing twinges when stooping or lifting—distressing urinary disorders? For bad back and weakened kidneys, Wilmington residents recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Read this Wilmington man's statement.

W. G. A. Otersen, 710 N. Third St., Wilmington, says: "My back caused me a great deal of misery and it was almost impossible for me to walk. My kidneys got so weak that I could hardly control the kidney secretions, especially at night. I felt so tired when I got up in the morning, that I could hardly drag myself around. The first box of Doan's Kidney Pills gave me relief, and when I had finished three boxes, my back was as sound as ever and my kidneys became normal."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy — get Doan's Kidney Pills — the same that Mr. Otersen had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

A Big Man In A Tight Place

The International Sunday School Lesson for June 18: "The Philippian Jailer"—Acts 16:16-40.

(BY WILLIAM T. ELLIS.)

(For the sake of variety and vividness, suppose we re-write, in the form of a drama, the story which is today's Sunday school lesson, taking no liberties with the facts, and only slightly expanding the text.)

SCENE:—The City of Philippi, a short distance from the present allied camps. The action moves from the Jews' praying place by the river, to the market place of Philippi, and thence to the city prison and the jailor's house.

Time—50 A. D.

Persons—Paul, of Tarsus.
Silas, of Antioch, a companion.
Timothy, of Lystra, Paul's disciple and attendant.
Dr. Luke, physician and historian.
Lydia, dealer in purple goods, and a Christian.
Fortune telling Maiden.
Her Masters.
Roman Magistrates.
Jailor.
Roman Sergeants.
The Jailor's Family.
Mob of citizens.

ACT I.

Paul—"Not again, Brother Silas, shall we return to this quiet place of prayer by the flowing stream, where God's own sky canopied us, and our hearts were as open as the air to one another. Still, I seem to see that little company of whom Sister Lydia is the chief, grown to a great church, worshiping the Name; and with its power flowing farther than the river's flow. But see, here is the adversary, again intruding into our holiest hours."

Fortune-telling Maiden—"Ho people! Look! These are the teachers of new doctrine! They call themselves servants of the Most High God, and say that they alone proclaim salvation. Can they tell your fortune? Do they read the omens? Out upon them for foreigners and dreamers."

Paul—"Demon, I charge thee in the name of Jesus Christ to come out of that maiden. See, Silas, how even the evil spirits are subject to the Name. Behold, the maiden is now herself, and no longer a mocker and a railer. Now who come here, fuming and cursing and swinging their arms as if to do us violence?"

The Maiden's Masters—"Barbarians! Unbelievers! Rascals! We shall see if there is a law in Philippi to lay such gentry by the heels. Have hold of them, men, and we'll to the magistrate!" (They roughly drag Paul and Silas to the market place and the judgment seat.)

The Mob—"Yo ho! Ai Ai! Go On! Kell 'em! Beat 'em! Let us at 'em That's it; hit him again! Well placed, Tony: that blow brought the blood. Give them to us, Master Magistrates, and we'll make short shift of them."

The Magistrates—"Silence! Order! Sergeants, quiet that rabble. Where are the accusers? Ah, here they stand. Well, speak up, now."

The Maiden's Masters—"O Honorable, sirs, justice is with you, and no man comes to your august presence in vain for his rights. These men, being Jews, do exceedingly trouble our city and set forth customs which it is not lawful for us to receive, or to observe, being Romans."

The Mob—"Oh Boo! Kill 'em! Kill 'em!"

The Magistrates—"Off with their coats. Lictors, to your work. Beat them well, that they and all other wanderers and iconoclasts may keep away from Phillippi." (Paul and Silas are severely beaten with many stripes.)

Paul—"Be of good courage, Brother Silas. 'Twas so our Lord was beaten for our sins. Let us pray for these poor, misguided folk."

Magistrates—"Now to prison with them, the inner prison, and stocks for their feet." (Aside, to the Maiden's Masters, "Come to us first hour after nightfall and we shall settle that little matter of business. There was no need to raise such a riot. Our business which is the city's order, is more important than yours.")

Act III.

Paul—"This is a deep prison hole, Brother Silas: yet it was from a darker pit of prideful sin that our Lord delivered me. Did you not feel Him near, in the fellowship of His sufferings, when the blows fell so fast."

Silas—"Even so, Brother Paul, My spirit was never freer than since my feet have been locked in these dungeon stocks. Christ counts me worthy to suffer for Him."

Paul—"Why not a hymn, Brother? The one you taught the women by the river, about the worthiness of the Lamb. To you has been given the minstrel gift."

(They sing, even as the hour of midnight sounds. While singing, an earthquake shakes the building to its deepest dungeon. Doors fly open, and even the prisoners' stocks break loose.)

Paul—"It is the Lord Comes He Himself, or is this but His messenger to set His servants free upon their journey again? I knew that the path to Macedonia was to be kept open before our feet. What a Lord is ours, whom winds and waves and earthquake shock serve, even as does the still small voice. But see: who is this?"

The Jailor—"I am ruined Every door is opened and the prisoners gone. Better death than dishonor. At least my trusty sword is left, and here I die amid my shame and broken trust. Farewell wife, and children! Hail, Caesar, thy soldier dies ere disgrace o'erwhelms him."

Paul—"Stay, Jailor, stay! Do thyself no harm. We are all here. Thy name is kept, by the God whom we serve. Live, and learn of Him."

Jailor—"A light, keeper, a light! (The light is brought.) 'Tis true, even as the Maiden cried in mockery, that ye are servants of the Most High God! I am all undone and trembling from this night's wonders. But see, I kneel—I worship—I clasp your feet—I who am a Roman soldier. Sir, what must I do to be saved?"

Paul—"Arise, brother: we be but men of like passions with yourself, but redeemed by the grace of God. The word is for you and yours, even as it was for us: Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved, thou and they house."

Act IV—The Jailor's Home.

The Jailor—"O wonderous sirs, tell me more of this Good News, and to these who are my life. See, even while you speak I would wash the cruel stripes, which greed and corruption laid upon your faithful backs. And if you think me worthy, who before an hour ago was chief among the sinners, I crave a humble place in your fellowship."

Paul—"Naught doth hinder at this hour to baptize thee and all thy house. (Paul and Silas baptize the Jailor and and his family.)

The Jailor—"Wrong and hurt brought you within my ken, O masters and brethren; and I prize the price at which I won such great joy as is now mine. Welcome to this our home, and to this humble fare that is spread before you. If it is your wont, will you not invoke the blessing of your God upon this food and this new fellowship?"

Act V.

The Jailor—"Masters, here come the sergeants from the magistrates; so much talk has there been in our city over the wondrous doings of last night. Also there is a rumor that it wasn't for justice alone that these administrators of the law dealt so sorely with you; for their itching palms are well known in this our city. But now they bid you go in freedom, for which we thank our God."

Paul—"So they would set us free in secret, would they? Not so fast. They have beaten us publicly, uncondemned, men that are Romans, and have cast us into prison, and do they now cast us out? No, verily, but let them come themselves and bring us out."

The Jailor—(Aside to the sergeants) "Is this not every inch a man. They thought him but a meek teacher of strange truths; when, lo, he is a free citizen, learned in the law of Rome."

Sergeants' (To the Magistrates) "Yonder prisoners refuse their freedom. They say they are free Roman citizens, and they are minded to bid you bow to them in apology."

Magistrates—"Here is trouble indeed. We little thought yesterday when these strangers were bleeding before us, that we in turn should bow before their judgment seat. Better a mouthful of dirt than a loss of place and power. So here is for it. (Magistrates approaching Paul) Most honorable sir, we crave with all humility the favor of your forgiveness. We knew not that you were born Romans, and we hearkened over much to the tales of the Maiden's Masters. We crave your pardon and offer you the hospitality of our city, and bid you go in peace."

Paul—"It is well. The wrong is undone, but remember that there is One who sitteth in judgment upon all judges."

WITH THE YOUNG PEOPLE

BY WILLIAM T. ELLIS.

THE SUNSHINE HIGHWAY

Terse Comments on the Uniform Prayer Meeting Topic of the Young People's Societies—Christian Endeavor, etc.—for June 18: "The Usefulness of Good Cheer."—John 16:24-33.

A popular jingle exhorted, "Keep on the sunny side of life." There is one sort of person who habitually chooses the shady side of the street, prefering gloom, depression and worry. Fretfulness and anxiety are second nature to some men and women. When they haven't real troubles at hand, they imagine them. All their days are attuned to a minor key. To say that this state of mind is unwise is merely to express a truism. No lot is so blessed that thinking cannot make it seem evil. Happiness is always subjective. The sensible person is the one who walks on the sunny side of life, thereby expressing his faith in the world and in God who made it. No troubles can abide the presence of a dauntless optimistic spirit. The person who is ever on the lookout for silver linings will find that clouds are chiefly silver.

Cheerfulness is not a little thing when it shows men the joy of the Lord.

Merely to be contented and grateful is the best way of giving God His due. He cares more for the fragrance of praiseful lives than for the odor of costliest sacrifice.

Little troubles vex little souls; great souls bear even great troubles serenely.

An optimistic attitude of mind is half the conquest over life's ills.

"If any little word of mine
Can make a life the brighter,
If any little song of mine
Can make a heart the lighter,
God help me speak the little word,
And take my life of singing
And drop it in some lonely vale,
To set the echoes ringing."

Give us the man who sings at his work. Be his occupation what it may, he is superior to any of those who follow the same pursuit in silent sullenness. —THOMAS CARLYLE.

I think we are too ready for complaint,
In this fair world of God's.
—MRS. BROWNING.

When we work with a song we work towards success.

We are not slaves, driven to our work by the lash of a taskmaster We are the sons of God, laboring together with our Father in His universal and infinite work. Therefore, the joy that God has in His work, should be shared by us, His fellowworkers.
O, cheerfully smile
And wait awhile
For the storm will soon be over,
There's a bit of blue
In the sky for you,
There's sweetness yet in the clover.
—JEAN DWIGHT FRANKLIN.

God's power should give us peace and God's goodness should make us glad.

A long face indicates narrowness rather than depth.

A happy Christian is a more effective argument for the Gospel than a whole volume of Christian evidences.

Oh, who will walk a mile with me
Along life's merry way?
A comrade blithe and full of glee,
Who dares to laugh out loud and free,

And let his frolic fancy play,
Like a happy child, through the flowers gay
That fill the field and fringe the way
Where he walks a mile with me.

And who will walk a mile with me
Along life's heavy way?
A friend whose heart has eyes to see
The stars shine out o'er the darkening lea,

And the quiet rest at the end of the day—
A friend who knows and dares to say,
The brave, sweet words that clear the way
Where he walks a mile with me.

With such a comrade, such a friend,
I fain would walk till journey's end,
Through summer sunshine, winter rain—
and then? Farewell ,we shall meet again!
—HENRY VAN DYKE.

Love hath its recompense in love;
Faith, its regard in faith!
O bind our hearts in heaven above,
And loose our souls in death.

THE USEFULNESS OF GOOD CHEER

John 16:24-33.

Good cheer makes the path of life easy by bringing blessings to all mankind, and as we are able to bless, so we become like our Maker, as it is an attribute of God.

God considers good cheer so important that He sent His Son to teach it. Until the time of Christ ,the future was very hazy. The Jews went to the "Bosom of Abraham," whatever that might be. But God wanted more cheer and happiness and hope on earth, so He sent His Son to tell of the future; to offset the gloom which was bound to come when man passed away. Now the world knows that death is only a step to Jesus.

God considered music and good cheer so important that He awakens the world every morning at the dawn by voices of the feathery songsters of the air, who cry out their greetings to the coming day.

Some of the evil things of life are contagious, but songs and music are more so. The world loves it. Music will stop the hurry of the street; it will cause an army to march to its death. Music is the Pied Piper who leads all the world onward. Let your heart sing songs and all the world will follow.

God believes in advertising. He made man so that when the heart smiles, the face would too. Keep your heart pure and undefiled. Keep right with him, so that the face will radiate glory to those about you.

Good cheer is a great companion. A whistle on the lonely road banishes fear, or makes a hard task easy.

A smile is the badge of honesty. It is hard to smile right if the heart is wrong. It is true that the wicked smile; that the smoothest crook works with a smile on his face, but the intelligent soon learn to distinguish whether the smile is WITH them or AT them. The face that radiates good cheer without hypocrisy, comes from a pure heart.

Good cheer is the normal attribute of man, and, when not possessed, the man is either mentally, physically, or morally ill, or unduly fatigued. Like a light, when life is at low ebb, it does not radiate. But like a light when it is normal, it spreads good cheer in all directions.

Good cheer makes friends. No one loves a grouch. We have only pity for a person who is likely to become a burden. Every one has all the burdens of his own that he desires. The persons of good cheer proclaim to the world that they are self sustaining good companions, and the world flocks to the company of such.

Good cheer will make the morbid jealous, just as a diamond makes a thief, for they long to possess it—it is a treasure. It is different from other earthly possessions, for a man may get good cheer from another, without diminishing the giver's supply in the least.

A person can give good cheer, and still possess more of the giving. A person can be too poor to endow colleges or libraries but he is never too poor to make the world richer with a single encouragement which will bring new hope and life.

We may lighten toil and care,
Or a heavy burden share—
With a word, a kindly deed
Or sunny smile,
We may girdle day and night
With a halo of delight,
If we keep the heart singing
All the while,
Keep the heart singing all the while
Make the world brighter with a smile;
Keep the song ringing, lonely hours
we may beguile—
If we keep the heart singing allt
the while.

THE BATTLE CRY OF PEACE

"A CALL TO ARMS AGAINST WAR"

Conceived and Executed by Commodore J. STEWART BLACKTON

EARTH'S MIGHTIEST PHOTOPLAY SPECTACLE

Based on Hudson Maxim's Book "DEFENSELESS AMERICA"

"To neglect one's liberty is to lose it; to neglect one's country is to perish with it."

"Self-preservation is the first law of a nation—neither wars, fires nor disasters are caused by precaution."

"Adequacy is not reached until our navy is strong enough to meet on equal terms the navy of the strongest possible adversary."

"It is an evil recklessness not to weigh one's own deficiencies." "The preparedness of 15 years ago is not the preparedness of today."

THEATRICAL

Three of the greatest features ever presented in a Wilmington theatre in a single week—that's what the Grand claims for the coming week, and is right there with the goods to back it up. If you don't believe it, just turn to the advertisement on another page.

Tomorrow the Grand presents the earth's foremost artiste of grand opera and screen, Geraldine Farrar, in her very greatest motion picture triumph, yes, get it, "Very Greatest"—a marvelous filmization of "Maria Rosa", in which she is supported by those great stars, Wallace Reid, Anita King and Pedro de Cordoba.

"Maria Rosa" has often been called "the photoplay that made Geraldine Farrar a bride" as it was while she was making this feature that she first met and became engaged to Lou-Tellegen, whom she later married. The romance had its start under the clear blue skies of Southern California, while the two artists were in each other's company daily.

In response to public demand since his startling performance opposite Fanie Ward in "The Cheat," Sessue Hayakawa has been starred in a spectacular Paramount feature, "Alien Souls", which comes to the Grand Wednesday. He is supported in this marvelous photoplay by his beautiful and clever little wife, Tsuru Aoki.

Thursday the Grand presents Clara Kimball Young, the film actress adored by millions, in her most startling and daring role in "The Yellow Passport," a startling filmization of that dynamic Broadway stage success, the supreme screen sensation, picturing with startling fidelity and realism the grim symbolism of the saffron emblem of shame, a blindingly, brilliant masterpiece of thrills, pathos, romance, intrigue, revenge and tender love.

"A Price for Folly"—Royal.

It has always been said that "the woman pays." "A Price for Folly," by George Dillenback, refutes that statement. George Dillenback's works are widely known and his "A Price for Folly" will place him on a plane with the foremost writers of today. It is a unique original inspiration. It refutes the axiom that a woman always pays. It took a wonderful personality to play the leading part in this great story, which has been made into a spectacular six-act Vitagraph Blue Ribbon feature. The part of a coquette, the part of a premier danseuse, the part of a woman with a marble heart, is a role that few women could portray—there are perhaps two, and one of them was chosen.

Her name is Edith Storey. Who would naturally be chosen to play "A Price for Folly" with Edith Storey? Antonio Moreno, you answer. The same wonderful combination that made "The Island of Regeneration" a success; the same combination that made your heart pulsate faster, made your bosom throb, will give you all these sensations and more, in "A Price for Folly." If you thought "The Island of Regeneration" was wonderful, see "A Price for Folly." Filled with heart throbs, with pathos, with love, with hatred, with every tremor that is possible to human emotions, the story runs smoothly but comes to a terrible climax at the end.

A tip—see it at the Royal tomorrow.

Bob Leonard-Ella Hall.

Popular Bob Leonard and Ella Hall play the leading roles in a great Gold Seal Mountain Drama, "The Silent Man of Timber Gulch," heading tomorrow's big bill at the Bijou, a drama that you will remember for a long time for its forceful portrayal of difficult roles.

One of Bob Leonard's strongest characterizations is this silent man, who, under the mistaken belief that he has killed a man, lives a lonely life of self-exile. Ella plays the part of the wife, who waits his return, only to pass on from sheer loneliness. Later she appears as the daughter, who unexpectedly finds the father and brings him the glad news that he is innocent of crime. It is a particularly strong play of most absorbing interest.

Rupert Julian and Elsie Jane Wilson, with Douglas Gerrard and Francella Billington, appear in a strong human interest drama, "The Fur Trimmed Coat", a tale of mystery of great interest.

"It Can't be Done," is a roaring Powers comedy that is also on tomorrow's bill.

"PREPAREDNESS"---AMERICA'S SLOGAN

SOME PROMINENT MEN WHO HAVE ISSUED "A CALL TO ARMS AGAINST WAR"

During the past twelve months a great national wave of interest in "Preparedness" has been felt over all America, until National Preparedness has now become the Nation's most vital issue. Credit for authorship of the preparedness movement has been claimed by various men in the public eye. Congressman Gardner, a prime worker for preparedness, has been credited with fathering it. Senator Chamberlain, former Senator Theodore Burton, and last but not least, Theodore Roosevelt, whose views are the most radical of all, who holds that the United States should be constantly on a war basis equal to the most powerful nations of Europe.

Those who know whereof they speak, are unanimous in the opinion that great photoplay spectacle, "The Cry of Peace" really started the ball rolling when it was first presented in New York city a little over a year ago, and later presented in representative cities all over America. The preface to "The Battle Cry of Peace," written by Commodore J. Stuart Blackton is counted one of the strongest short meter arguments for preparedness ever written. It follows:

"Awake, America! Do we want war?

"And God made man in his own image."

Five million men in the flower of their vigorous young manhood, maimed and crippled for life; legless, armless, blinded, shattered; hopelessly destroyed beyond repair.

Five million more; luckier perhaps, than their broken comrades, rotting in shallow charnel pits or on the war-torn, blood-soaked soil between miles and miles of hostile trenches.

Ten million men! Half of them dead, the other half—worse than dead.

Five million families, each burdened with a hopeless human wreck until death removes the burden.

Five million more families deprived forever of the bread-winner.

Ten to twenty million women—mothers, wives sisters—saddened, suffering, despairing.

Millions of children, fatherless; destined to know only a life of cruel hardships.

Millions again—peaceful, innocent, non-combatants—old men, women, little children; starving, homeless, outraged, outcast.

This is Europe's War-Tax on Humanity During a Little Over One Year!

None of those afflicted ones wanted war. Not one would have permitted war if he or she had possessed the power to prevent it.

But they could not prevent war.

They could not prevent it because a few men, a clique, a party, powerful remorseless, diabolic, controlling the lives and destinies of millions and affecting the destines of other millions, decided that it would further their interests, increase their power, broaden their domain, to take that which did not belong to them, but which they coveted.

Therefore, they ordered war.

Why, then, should America feel safe and secure?

Satanic crimes, shaming the barbarism of the so-called dark ages, have been and are being committed in the name of War.

What law is there to prevent the civilized barbarians of today from extending their operations to America? Not the law of right.

Every law of humanity, morality and civilization has been outraged in the name of War.

The United States is the richest country in the world. What law shall prevent the seekers after World Dominion from despoiling America as they have despoiled Europe? Not the law of might.

Our Navy is hopelessly inadequate, fifth-rate.

Our Army is admittedly even more ridiculously inefficient.

The people who say that America is invincible in her isolation, in her genius to rise triumphant over her enemies, in her ability to instantly supply all necessities in case of war; the people who say this are either imbeciles, deliberately deluding themselves, or traitors, deliberately deluding their fellowmen.

People of America! Do you want war?

Or will the spirit of '76, the spirits of Washington, of Lincoln, of Grant and of McKinley, kindle now in the breasts of our citizens the realization that Power spells Peace, and the Navy is our first line of defense, and that behind it must stand an Army worthy of the name?

When America's first line of defense, her Navy, is so formidable and so perfectly equipped in all branches that it can secure both our Atlantic and Pacific coasts from invasion, and when that Navy is backed up in the East and in the West by a well-trained, adequately equipped Army, then, and only then, will our country, our lives, our families and our properties be safe from the Modern Madness of War.

"To neglect one's liberty is to lose it; to neglect one's country is to perish with it."

DEATH AT MAGNOLIA

Mrs. A. D. West Passes Away After Brief Illness—Notes.

Magnolia, N. C., June 17.—Mrs. A. D. West died last night about 10:30, having suffered a stroke of apoplexy Thursday night, since which time there had been little hope for her recovery. She is survived by her husband and two daughters, Mrs. Ethel Hollingsworth and Mrs. Mamie Pollock. The funeral was conducted this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

Rev. R. F. Munns took Mrs. Munns to Wilmington this morning to consult Dr. Murphy about some throat trouble with which she is afflicted.

The wind blew down and did considerable damage to the tent in which Rev. H. A. Forester and J. V. Frederick were holding a two weeks' meeting and they were unable to preach in the tent Thursday night, but Rev. R. F. Munns, pastor of the Methodist church, kindly offered the use of his church, so preaching was held there Thursday night, and the tent was repaired and put up again in time for preaching last night. There was not anyone in the tent at the time it was blown down.

What to Do With Unknown Crazy Man is Question—Hospital Crowded.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Goldsboro, N. C., June 17.—There is a white man confined in the county jail that has given the county authorities considerable concern and they are at a loss to know what to do with him. Sometimes he eats, sometimes he doesn't. He tries to talk but one can't understand what he says. He has committed no crime but appears to be crazy, and the principal thing that the authorities would like to know is, who is he? where did he come from? and what are they going to do with him?

They don't want to turn him loose because they are afraid he will do some damage, for he appears not to know who he is or where he wants to go. They can't get him in the State Hospital at Raleigh because that institution is "chock-a-block" with 250 applications ahead.

The man was found on the farm of W. D. Grant in New Hope township, and as he could not give a satisfactory account of himself, he was brought to this city and placed in jail.

Apparently the man is a foreigner, looks to be about 60 years of age, has full head of hair and whiskers, brown in color, tinged with grey, height about five feet, six inches, and weight 135 pounds.

A number of ladies have interested themselves in behalf of the man and trust that through this medium they may be able to locate some one that knows him, is related to him, or will interest themselves in his behalf.

TORRENTIAL RAIN HITS RED SPRINGS SECTION

Mills, Bridges and Roads Washed Away; Crops Damaged.

Havoc Wrought in Vicinity of Raeford and Antioch by "Cloudburst" That Renders All Roads Impassable.—Mail Stopped.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Red Springs, N. C., June 17.—This section was visited yesterday afternoon by a terrific rain. It began falling about 4 o'clock and continued into the night. The Hodgin mill at Antioch was washed away. Capt. Thomas McBride's mill and gin house also was washed up as was the James McNeill water mill at Raeford. It was a veritable cloudburst.

Crops in the Antioch and Raeford section are badly damaged. Travel even on the main roads is impossible on account of washouts and bridges being swept away by the flood. It will be several days before even the rural carriers can make their trips.

This correspondent was weather bound at J. A. McPhaul's and reached Red Springs by the only means of transportation, walking. At Red Springs the rain was not so heavy and the damage not so great.

The loss to crops around Antioch and Raeford will be heavy, while the county's loss with washouts and bridges cannot be estimated.

MUCH DAMAGE WROUGHT IN VICINITY OF FAYETTEVILLE

Fayetteville, June 17.—The very heavy rains of the past 72 hours, accompanied by a strong wind last night have done considerable damage in this section.

Two persons were injured when the wind blew down a tenement house on J. M. Owen's place in Seventy-first township, injuring the wife of the negro tenants, and wrecked a house occupied by Will Raynor on Dr. J. V. McGougan's farm. Mrs. Raynor being slightly hurt. Her life was probably saved by the timbers' falling across a sewing machine and some other articles of furniture. Two barns were blown down on W. H. Owen's farm. Residents of a negro section in the northwestern part of this city were driven from their homes by the rising waters of Cross Creek, swollen by the opening of the dam at the municipal water plant at Glenville. Occupants of some of the houses in this section had to be removed in hacks.

The damage to the waterworks plant at Glenville, where the city's filtration system is located, is slight.

Railroad Bridges Gone.

One hundred and fifty feet of the Aberdeen and Rockfish Railroad's track was washed away at Rockfish creek and fifty feet at Buckhead creek, three and a half miles west of this city. Service between Fayetteville and Raeford will probably be restored by Monday afternoon, it was stated at the A. & R. offices here today.

Several dams in the vicinity have been "blown out" by the waters. About 20 feet of the dam at Mayor McNeill's Merchant Mills on Cross Creek was carried away, the dam at J. H. Culbreth's mill on the same stream was broken, while dams on the places of R. B. Evans and W. A. Vanstory in Seventy-first township, suffered a like fate.

In the country it is said that the crops in the lowlands are completely submerged by water, while even on the uplands water is standing to the top of the rows in the cotton and corn. The amount of damage done to the crops of course cannot be estimated at this time.

At this writing the stage of water in the Cape Fear has not reached above 30 feet but the river is climbing rapidly and river men are looking for a big rise during the next 48 hours. When the water from the many swollen streams begins to pour into the Cape Fear the old river is expected to hump herself and start something.

The rising of the waters is being called here the "Joe Brown Freshet," on the type of the famous "Sherman" and "Populist" freshets in 1860 and 1896.

V. E. Towles, United States engineer in charge of the section of the Washington-Atlanta highway from Smithfield to Columbia, was in the city today on his way north from Columbia, and reports that the heavy rain last evening did considerable damage to the highway between Fayetteville and Raeford. The bridge at Branson's Creek was damaged and the back fill or approaches o neach side of it washed away for a distance of about eight feet, making it impossible for teams and autos to pass, thus practically closing the road to traffic.

The Buckhead bridge is O. K., but the approach on the east side has been considerably damaged.

Beaver Creek bridge is also considerably damaged, and the approach on the east side badly washed. In many places much of the clay has been washed out of the road and at other places considerable sand from the fields has washed in the road. The three bridges will be repaired as soon as possible.

CONGRESSMAN BRITT TO HAVE ROUGH SAILING

Bull Moose Followers to Make Things Rocky for Republican Candidate.

Asheville, N. C., June 17.—Congressman Britt has a considerable amount of fence building to do in this district, if he wants to make even a respectable showing in the November election, according to the attitude of the Bull Moose Republicans returning from Chicago, and throughout the district. Instead of the 500 or more Democratic votes that helped to carry him through the last time. Congressman Britt is facing not only the loss of these votes, but a bitter fight within the ranks of his own party.

Charles Lee Sykes, one of the Moose delegates to Chicago, has stated that the Progressives are in open war on Britt, Harkins and a number of others, and that they will fight them in every attempt Mr. Britt and his friends make to put their heads above the waters of the political fish pond. Mr. Britt has spent considerable time recently writing letters explaining his vote on certain questions, and the people are tired of explanations. This district is largely for Roosevelt, and the fact that Mr. Britt stood steadfastly for Hughes at Chicago has created no pleasant impressions for the congressman in his home district. Everything at present points to the easy redemption of the district, back to the Democratic fold, by Senator Zebulon Weaver this fall.

LUMBERTON NO LONGER IMPORTS FEED STUFFS

Robeson Farmers Selling, Not Buying, Corn and Forage.

Many Coming to Good Roads Convention—J. A. Brown to Speak Wednesday Night—Vegetables Plentiful—Revival Closed.

(Special Star Correspondence).

Lumberton, N. C., June 17—Your correspondent made a round of the big time merchants this week and from them obtained some facts which are interesting and encouraging. None of them have had a bushel of corn or a bale of hay shipped in here this year, and all of them are well supplied with plenty of home-made corn. To give an idea, Messrs. White & Gough have on hand at least 2,000 bushels corn and 500 or 600 bushels field peas. Messrs. R. D. Caldwell & Son are loaded with corn and peas, but not to such an extent. A few days ago they filled a good order for peas to some point in Georgia.

Mr. L. H. Caldwell, the Messrs. Biggs and every one else handling corn and peas are all ready and anxious to fill orders. The prevailing price is $1.00 per bushel. Wagon loads of country hay can be seen moving almost any day. One farmer told the writer this week that he still had several tons of oats from last year's crop, in perfect condition. Thousands of bushels of grain will be carried over in Robeson this year unless our people get busy, buy hogs wherever they can be bought and turn the grain into meat. Robeson is the county for working people.

A few days ago Mr. Joseph Prevatt and The Star man were looking over the tombstones in the old cemetery near the union station, when we saw one giving date of birth of a gentleman as 1787 and date of death as 1873. Mr. Prevatt said the gentleman who was buried there was one of the best men that ever lived in this country, and stated further that when his estate was settled up some money was left for an heir that, to the best of his recollection, was never located. Curiosity carried the writer to the court house where he found that the amount left to the missing heir was $139.11, and that the money was turned over to the University in 1906, and up to the present no claim has ever been made for it.

Two or three days of fair weather have been welcomed in this section during the week, but the grass that was cut down by the farmers didn't have time to die in many places before the rain put it to growing again. There is generally good stands of cotton, but the average is small, the weather remaining too cool for much growth, even if the grass was not covering everything.

A short time ago we were engaged in conversation with two Lumberton school girls, about 16 years old we should say, when the once notorious Robeson county outlaws were mentioned. To our surprise neither one of these girls knew anything about those trying times. While one of them said she had heard the name of Henry Berry Lowrey, the other knew nothing of him, and had never heard of him at all. That only goes to show how soon things are forgotten. We venture the assertion that 40 to 50 years ago there was not a home in Robeson county where the name of Henry Berry Lowrey was not familiar.

Coming to Convention.

The indications now are that quite a number of people from this section will attend the Good Roads Convention in Wilmington next week. Tickets will be on sale from Monday morning to Thursday morning, inclusive, fare for the round trip $2.40, good returning until the 26th. Judging from the way people are talking, a good many will also go to Charleston Tuesday on the $3.00 round trip fare. A good crowd is also going to Washington Tuesday. Bethune has left nothing undone to make that a trip long to be remembered.

Deputy Postmaster R. O. Edmund is Every day last week nice fresh pork could be obtained. The idea that fresh pork is not good in summer is fast being dispelled. According to our way of thinking it is good any time one can afford to buy it.

Some of the young fellows who have been let have too much rope in Lumberton, it would seem, are nearly to the end, and it looks now that when they put on long pants they will be clothed in stripes. It is pitiful to see devoted mothers bowed down in grief brought on by deeds of their boys whom they have so tenderly cared for in young childhood. "Spare the rod," etc.

In one of the display windows of the big department store of Messrs. R. D. Caldwell & Son is a display that makes the older people think of times gone by. The window is full of snuff put up in the old way in packages ranging in price from 10 cents to $3.00 or $4.00.

Trouble is right around the corner—there is getting to be too many kid auto drivers. We are told that 16 years is the State law.

taking his 15 days' vacation, and looks taking his 15 days vacation, an dlooks like a man lost walking around town not at work.

Brown to Speak.

Hon. J. A. Brown was a visitor here yesterday and expressed himself as being well pleased with the outlook for the second primary. Mr. Brown will speak here on Wednesday night, 28th. The Brown Club is called to meet Monday night of the coming week. Those who have already joined and all other Democratic voters are invited to be present Monday night. Local speakers will address the meeting. In the meantime be ponderous over what Joe Brown did in Robeson county in 1898, when some of her own leading citizens sat down with their mouths as tight as an oyster. How much money did Brown save the tax-payers of the State on State buildings while he was in the Legislature? Investigate.

Vegetables are plentiful. The first cucumbers of the season were home raised, while the first shipped in arrived this week and retailed at 15 cents the dozen. Florida cantaloupes were offered here this week at low prices for the first of the season. Mrs. R. D. Caldwell gathered from her garden one morning this week a big bushel of squash, but they were not for sale. Like the good Christian woman that she is, she carried and sent them around to her neighbors. The Star man resides near-by and knows whereof he speaks.

We saw a poor fellow yesterday morning begging for a dime, with which, he said, to buy lemon extract to sober up on. What if he could see his pitiful condition as other see it.

Peter Vallis, who for the past eight or ten years has conducted the Dixie Cafe, has sold out and gone to Albemarle where he expects to engage in business. Vallis, for a long time did a good business here. He was as clever and accommodating a Greek as ever came this way, too clever for his own good. He let whiskey and bad company put him out of business. After being closed for several days the cafe opened this morning under new management, and the new proprietor guarantees good, clean service with no loafers hanging around.

W. B. Flowers, who was arrested here several days ago, returning here after the shooting of Lottie Taylor in Durham, was tried in Recorder Britt's court yesterday, charged with abandonment of his family. He drew a sentence of 14 months on the roads, but gave notice of appeal, and is in jail.

Mr. Regan McIntyre, who has been a popular salesman with the Pope Drug Company for the past two or three years, has resigned to succeed Mr. Rhyne at the Lumberton Cotton Mills store. Mr. Rhyne goes with the V. & C. S. Railway July 1st. Mr. McIntyre will leave the drug store the last of next week.

A letter received from Charlotte this morning stated that Mr. Frank A. Wishart, who went to that city Wednesday for treatment, was getting on nicely. Mr. Wishart was operated on for a head trouble from which he had been suffering torture for several days. The letter stated that the physicians who performed the operation said he would not have lived 24 hours longer.

Hon. Stephen McIntyre addressed the Fairmont Brown Club this afternoon at 4 o'clock. Reports from that section indicate that as a sure-enough Brown stronghold.

Great Revival Closed.

The revival meeting which began at the First Bartist church a week ago last Sunday, closed Thursday night of this week, and Rev. Dr. W. M. Vines, of Charlotte, who preached during the meeting, left for his home yesterday morning. It seems to be the general opinion that the meeting was the best ever held in Lumberton, church members made stronger and non-members interested as never before. The Truth was presented in a plain, broad, matter-of-fact way without any emotional features. As a result of the meeting 70 members were added to the church, 54 by baptism, that number being baptized last night. The remaining 16 were admitted by letter from other churches and by restoration. The town membership of the First Baptist church is now about 525, and in Rev. C. L. Greaves has one of the ablest pastors it has ever had.

Rev. Father Bour, the pastor, will conduct services at the Catholic church tomorrow morning at 8:30 and in the evening at 8 o'clock. Public cordially invited.

Verdict Set Aside.

It was stated last night that Judge Daniels had set aside the verdict of the jury in the Carlyle will case, and that it would be tried over again. This case was tried here about a month ago, requiring eight or nine days to get through with it.

We must congratulate our old friend, George Jackson, on his election to the office of sheriff of New Hanover. Of course the result of the primary made him sheriff. W. S. W.

SPECIAL UNION MEETING

At First Baptist Church This Afternoon to Prepare for Convention

There will be a joint meeting of the Baptist Young People's Union, from the three Baptist churches of the city, in the Sunday school room, First Baptist church, this afternoon at 4 o'clock. It is the earnest desire that the entire membership of the three unions be present, together with their pastors, and as many of the church membership as possible. This meeting is called for the purpose of discussing something pertaining to the entertainment of the State convention which meets in Wilmington June 22 to 25 inclusive, at which it is expected 350 to 450 delegates and ministers from all parts of the State will be in attendance. With only a few days before the convention it is very important to have a full atendance this afternoon, because there is much to be done, and what is done must be done immediately.

Mr. Coy Hewlett is chairman of the entertainment committee and the other members are Messrs. J. W. Hollis and J. P. Holton.

Bishop Darst to Preach.

Bishop Thomas C. Darst will preach at the 11 o'clock service this morning at St. John's Episcopal church. An attractive musical programme has been arranged for the occasion.

CAROLINA BABY CAMP HAS SPLENDID RECORD

First Charitable Institution of Kind South of Norfolk.

Institution at Saluda, N. C., Run for the Benefit of Needy Mothers and Babies—Support Thus Far From Two Cities.

(By W. H. McCaw.)

Saluda, N. C., June 17.—That phase of the infant mortality problem that grapples in practical experience with those not financially able to get relief naturally engages the serious attention of thoughtful men and women of normal impulses. But when one looks into the splendid record here in Saluda of the Carolina Baby Camp—just a baby itself, going into its second summer—one wonders why said thoughtful men and women of said normal impulses hereinbefore mentioned don't devote some of the emotional and intellectual energy they spend on the subject to a few hours work to raise $30 among their friends to remove the problems from some suffering home. Two weeks at $15 a week winds up most any case in a cure.

For this is all it will cost at the Carolina Baby Camp to maintain both mother and baby and effect a permanent cure of almost any digestional illness not due to organic trouble. This size pile takes care of everything—the drugs—what little drugs are used. This is a doctor place where the diet nurse fills about all the prescriptions.

This baby camp, the first charitable institution of its kind south of Norfolk, has a wonderful future, as it can hardly fail to be the forerunner of similar institutions in the South at points selected for climatic advantages, as well as a splendid success in itself on a much larger scale with the devoted and practical people behind its operations at Spartanburg and Charlotte.

It is run for the present for the benefit of needy mothers and babies in the two Carolinas, tho so far the financial support comes alone from Spartanburg and Charlotte.

Idea Simple and Intelligent.

But the idea is so simple and so intelligent, and the dividends in results are so immediate and handsome and practical—results not only in babies cured but in education and training to the mothers, who are also often given badly needed medical treatment themselves—that it is inconceivable that the idea will not steadily and rapidly grow until every city and hamlet in the south—through a practically managed better babies association, say—is in reach of a general baby hospital like this where a climate is of importance. Fact is, progress has really begun in a large way in this matter of better care of babies, and town baby hospitals are going to get built ahead of "great white ways" shortly.

It is only within the last two or three years that the doctors themselves have got anywhere in eradicating "second summer" troubles and kindred infant digestional disorders, which cover over 95 per cent of the agony and misery and loss among the little ones. As the solution of practically all of the trouble is to be found in dieting, which any intelligent woman can master for all practical purposes, the warm and effective interest the women who have been here with their babies have manifected in the talks the nurses give them and in the regular set lectures the physician in charge delivers at stated periods, promise great things for the progress of the better babies movement.

There is yet tho many a high class physician standing at the top of his calling in other respects, still treating infant digestional troubles with egg albumin and peptonoids. It is not the object of this article to attempt any scientific discussion, but it seems established that the day of egg albumin and peptonoids has given away among those who get cases as pecialit to milk proteins and Bulgarian milk, and for reasons whose logic appeals to those who have followed the results.

The physician in charge of the Carolina Baby Camp here is Dr. D. Lesesne Smith, of Spartanburg and formerly of Charleston, a specialist in this line with a private baby hospital of his own here, who gives the camp the benefit of his own training and special experience daily at practically no compensation to himself. The Rev. W. H. K. Pendleton of Spartanburg is President of the Association.

Charlie Hearon's Idea.

This baby camp idea was born in one of Charlie Hearon's hunches while he was editorializing down on the Spartanburg Herald. His baby had been cured in Saluda. So he arranged a meeting with the physician before some kindred spirits in Spartanburg one night, and before anybody present could work up any sidestepping means, Mr. Hearon had "started something" with the whole crowd working. In two or three days all the details had been worked out along with the necessary finances. The camp did a good thing that very summer, and has been growing steadily since. Doesn't own its camp so far, but it has a good one rented, well located, with plenty of room and ideally arranged inside.

Here are some interesting items from the annual report of the physician in charge on the camp's work last summer:

Babies admitted	36
Mothers admitted	16
Total days, babies	625
Total days, mothers	243
Deaths, babies	2
Death rate	5.57 per cent
No. visits physician	112
No. days camp operated	92

All of which was accomplished at total cost of $1,100. That expense ratio tells its own eloquent story, makes its own hard-headed appeal to the energy and intelligence of the people of the two Carolinas to move for the relief of the babies. To the laymen, that death rate looks good too, when one recalls that the record for 25 years of the baby hospital that enjoys greater prestige than any other in the world is 31 per cent. Saludaistas claim some of the credit for this for their climate, which Uncle Sam's experts say has more ozone to the given cube than any other even in Western North Carolina, on account of the peculiar arrangement of the mountains and ravines in and around Saluda.

Most Promising Feature.

The most interesting and promising feature of either the private baby hospital or the charity baby camp is the close and earnest attention the mothers take in all that is going on. Of course there are exceptions, as is to be expected, about as many at the one as the other, but one cannot nose around either place with his eyes and ears in working order without being convinced that the mothers in both stations of life will master this subject with the right opportunity. The diet nurse, the high salaried employe who with her own hands prepares all that the baby eats here, does her work under the daily specific direction of the physician, and finds the mothers ready and apt pupils; as do the general nurses, who give little talks on the whys and therefores as they go along with the practical demonstrations. The physician in charge in his regular lectures lays the foundation for a thorough training in an atmosphere of mothers that indicates that they will work to perfect their schooling when they go home, and impart it to others. The open forum he conducts shows the intelligence of the mothers is going to connect with the mother instinct.

(Special Star Correspondence).

Laurinburg, N. C., June 17.—Laurinburg was in the hands of the various camps of the Woodmen of the World of Scotland county and their friends from adjoining counties Thursday night. PLAN 2,000 MOONLIGHT SCHOOLS FOR NEXT YEAR

To Begin Four-Year Campaign Against Illiteracy in State.

Board of Control of State Bureau of Community Service Getting Busy—Cotton Seed Crushers to Meet—Raleigh News.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., June 17.—The board of control of the State Bureau of Community Service is perfecting plans for its four-year campaign for the elimination of illiteracy in this State and has already scheduled two thousand moonlight schools for the next year, beginning in July, when there is to be a preliminary conference to be participated in by representatives of the Junior Order United American Mechanics, Woman's Clubs, Farmers' Union, and other interested organizations.

In connection with this campaign there will be special effort, also, to spread throughout the North Carolina rural communities a policy for the maintenance of social life on a basis that the rural communities shall be more self sufficient and attractive for the people, youn gand old.

Col. Fred A. Olds, director of the North Carolina Hall of History, is on a trip through Western Carolina in search of a number of valuable historic relics, having definite promise of the gift or lean to the State of a number of most desirable articles.

A pardon is issued for Alexander H. Brooks, who is serving a 6 years' sentence from Buncombe county for manslaughter, it being granted, as Governor Craig expresses it, "In the merciful administration of justice." The prisoner stood well in his community as an honest hardworking man. He has a large dependent family. The killing occurred when Brooks believed himself about to receive bodily harm at the hands of the deceased and kinsman although the Governor holds that he fired the fatal shot before there was actual justification in impending danger to himself. The pardon is granted on recommendation of court officers, members of the jury and others.

Raleigh is to entertain the North Carolina Association of Cotton Seed Crushers on Wednesday and Thursday of next week and Secretary H. A. White, of Greenville, spent the past two days here perfecting the arrangements for the members. He conferred with Secretary Bowler, of the Chamber of Commerce, and others and returned home well pleased with the outlook for a thoroughly enjoyable session. N. E. Edgerton, of Selma, is the president of the organization.

COTTON AGAIN DECLINES

Scattering Liquidation Caused by Adverse Weather Conditions and the Mexican Situation.

New York, June 17.—Prospects for clearing weather and nervousness over the Mexican situation promoted scattering liquidation in the cotton market today and after a slight early advance, prices eased off. October sold down from 12.95 to 12.88, closing at the lowest with the general list closing barely steady at a net decline of 2 to 4 points.

Opening prices were four points lower to three higher, with near months relatively easy, but the tone seemed to improve during the progress of the call, and active months soon sold 3 to 4 point net higher. There was some buying for Liverpool account and as soon as these orders had been supplied, the market turned easier on the western belt forecast from 12.80 to 12.72, while December declined from 13.11 to 13.05 and the market closed at practically the low point of the morning.

Market Declines But Later Advances to Above Friday's Prices.

New Orleans, June 17.—After a decline of 1 to 4 points on the opening today the cotton market steadied up and went 1 to 3 points above yesterday's close. Buying for the account of foreign traders who were reversing straddle operations was generally supposed to be the chief steadying influence. The market closed steady at a net loss of 1 to 2 points.

Liverpool was very poor on both spots and futures and the local market fell off in the initial trades. The official forecast predicted fair weather over the belt except for showers in Georgia and the Carolinas, but the selling movement which started on this was checked by complaints of too much rain in Texas and Oklahoma. At no time, however, did the market show any real buying power.

The Mexican situation attracted more attention than usual and prospects of war were considered more bullish than bearish because of the effect such an event probably would have on consumption and the Texas crop.

Closing bid: July 12.61; October 12.72; December 12.86; January 12.97; March 13.12.

Spot cotton firm and unchanged; sales on the spot 1,060 bales; to arrive 1,350 bales; middling 12.69.

COTTON SEED OIL MARKET.

New York, June 17. — The cotton seed oil market was moderately active and irregular. Old crop positions held steady on small offers and light stocks, while new crop delieveries were easier, under liquidation and Southern selling. Closing prices were three points higher to six net lower. Sales, 9,800 barrels.

Closed steady. Spot, 10.60@10.85; June, 10.60@10.75; July, 10.61@10.63; August, 10.60@10.62; September, 10.58@10.60; October, 9.54@9.56; November, 8.67@8.70; December, 8.59@8.63; January, 8.62@8.68. Total sales, 9,700.

Washington, June 17.—The total gold reserve of Federal Reserve banks increased more than $7,000,000 during the week ending June 16, reaching $367,986,000, according to the board's statement today.

STOCKS RECEDE IN VALUE

Adverse Mexican and Railroad Labor Situations Cause Heaviness and Considerable Losses.

New York, June 17.—Prices of leading stocks receded from substantial fractions to a point in today's bull market under the adverse influence of the Mexican and railroad labor situations, while certain specialties, notably Mexican Petroleum, New York Airbrake, General Electric and Pressed Steel Car were lower by 2 or 3 points. Partial recoveries occurred before the close, but the undertone was inclined to heaviness. Total sales 220,000 shares.

Mercantile agencies noted further gradual contraction of business in certain lines, but trade in general is booked up for many months to come and prices of various products are inclined to ease off.

The bank statement showed a further reduction of actual loans, which decreased by more than $20,000,000, with a gain of as much in cash and an increase of about $21,500,000 in excess reserves, bringing that item up to almost $94,000,000 as against $56,000,000 early in the month.

Bonds were narrow and irregular. Total sales par value $1,910,000. United States 4s, and Panama 3s declined 1-4 per cent. on call during the week.

DRY GOODS MARKET.

New York, June 17.—Print cloths and convertibles were irregular today with a firmer tone in heavy cottons. Fine goods were easier. Burlaps were firmer. Knit goods were active. Linens were quiet and firm.

COTTON GOODS MARKETS.

Values Very Steady—Mills Operated as Fully as Possible.

New York, June 17.—Soft spots continues in some parts of the cotton goods markets, but on the whole values are very steady and mills are as fully employed as restricted labor supplies will permit. The coarse and heavy end of the cloth markets seem stronger than the medium and finer ends. Cotton duck, wide sheetings, many number of staple sheetings and specialties in heavy goods are firm while grey goods for printing and converting are easier. Print cloths have dropped from 5 3-4 for 38 1-2 inch 64x60s, a month ago, to 5 3-8c, which was paid yesterday for a contract for June and July delivery. Bleached goods rule steady and colore dcottons including ginghams rule firm. The seasonable cleaning up of fine and fancy cottons is going on at prices that show profits on past purchases, but below the levels of today's cost of replacement. Yarn markets rule very firm on the whole and knit goods are being bought liberally for the coming spring season. The jobbers are doing a very satisfactory business and retailers are doing a better business by far than last year, although summer merchandise is not moving as fast as anticipated due to the cool weather. One element that is militating against future operations on grey goods is the high costs of finishing and that does not give promise of early improvement as finishers have plenty of work in hand.

Quotations are: Print cloths, 28 inch 64x64s, 4 1-4c; 64x60s, 4s; 38 1-2 inch, 64x64s, 5 3-4c; brown sheetings, Southern standards, 8 1-4c; denims 2:20 ounce; indigo, 18c; tickings, 8 ounce 15 1-2c; staple ginghams, 8c; standard prints, 7c; dress ginghams, 10 1-2c.

PRIMARY COST STATE LESS THAN $8,000

Work of Board of Elections Completed at Last.

Candidates Now Filing Final Statements of Campaign Expenses. Raleigh Enjoying Building Boom—Crops Fine.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., June 17.—Col. Wilson G. Lamb, chairman of the State Board of Elections, completed his work in connection with the State-wide primaries today and left for his home with no special occasion for his return until he comes the first week in July to canvass the returns from the second primaries that are to be held in the Sixth congressional district and in some counties for members of the Legislature.

Colonel Lamb gave out a statement today showing that the cost to the State in holding the State-wide primaries was $7,915. The printing bill was $5,500, and the cost of ballots, stamps, telegrams, stationery and all administration work was $5,000. There is deducted from these amounts $2,585 fees paid in by candidates in registering for the primaries.

The candidates are filing with the Secretary of State now their certified final statements of campaign expenses. All these are to be in by June 23 under provisions of the primary law. Some of these are showing up pretty heavy and others remarkably small.

Building Boom in Raleigh.

It is estimated that there is more than three times as much building in progress in Raleigh and suburbs now as there has ever been before in the history of the city, the great bulk of it being residences, and there are a number of others just about to be gotten under way. The latter include a handsome residence for Graham H. Andrews, Blount street; one for Murray Allen, on Lane street; one for Walter Bailey, on Lane street; one for Gavin Dortch, Person street, and one for R. L. Horton, on Hillsboro street, all these to cost $10,000 or more each.

Crop conditions in this section, barring some bad effects of recent excessive rains, are said to be especially fine. There had been a great deal of plowing and chopping done before the rains came and the grass is therefore not yet seriously ahead of the farmers as a rule. Cotton is looking fine as are corn and other staple crops and truck of all kinds.

emy and also sabered two Austrian companies.

"Our cavalry at noon yesterday occupied Radziviloff after dislodging the enemy whom it continued to drive back upon Brody (Northeast of Lemburg).

"The enemy was driven out of Staryi Movyi, and Pot chaieff as well as from the old convent of Potchaieff, and both places were occupied by our troops yesterday.

"An army corps commander, who was an eye witness of yesterday's fighting in one of the Stripo districts, says the enemy was in flight on the entire battlefield. Thrown into the utmost confusion by the Salvos of our batteries, Germans and Austrians intermingled fell in hundreds. Brigades of our batteries at full gallop, occupied the open positions, whence they fired point blank on the fugitives. The dash of our troops was irresistible.

"Pierce firing is proceeding in the region of Gaivonoka and Kurvanovka on the Stripa where the enemy is furiously attacking the Snaityn railway. An enemy column was thrown back across the river Tchermiava.

"In the region of Dvinsk our artillery continued to bombard the enemy positions with visible success.

"We repulsed an attempt by the Turks in the Caucasus to take the offensive in the Trebizond sectors. Our troops have advanced in the Platana sector.

"In the direction of Mosul a party of 27 or our scouts attacked an enemy detachment numbering 300. The ensuing fight lasted uninterruptedly for two hours. Finally, the handful of our brave scouts by their accurate fire, dislodged the enemy from his position and forced him to take flight."

BOMBARDMENT OF FRENCH IN MEUSE REGION CONTINUES

Paris, June 17.—The official communication tonight reads:

"On the left bank of the Meuse the bombardment continued against our first lines on Hill 304 and our second lines in the region of Chattancourt. On the right bank an attack by our troops against the German positions north of Hill 321 enabled us to take this morning some elements of trenches and capture about 30 prisoners. During the day there was a violent artillery action in the sector south of Fort Vaux.

"In the forest of Apremont grenade fighting occurred. Our artillery bombarded German camps and organizations at Montsec, east of St. Mihiel. One of our long range guns shelled a position at Vigneulles Les Hattanchatel where a fire broke out.

"Aviation: Bar Le Duc was bombarded anew. The bombs dropped caused damage of little military importance. Several persons are reported wounded."

CZERNOWITZ IS ALMOST COMPLETELY DESTROYED

Petrograd, via London, June 17. — Czernowitz has been almost completely destroyed in the fierce battle that has been raging there, and the Austrian forces are being fast enveloped by Russian troops, which are cutting them off from their Bukowina army, according to a telegram to the Russky Invalid.

CITIZENS OF NUEVO LAREDO ARE ARMED FOR ATTACK.

Laredo, Texas, June 17.—Arms and ammunition were distributed to citizens in Nuevo Laredo, opposite here, tonight by constitutionalist authorities for use, it was said, in the event of a break in relations between the United States and Mexico.

Information received here tonight was that a large number of Mexican troops have been concentrated north of Laredo for an attack on American territory. Three companies of United States coast artillery arrived here today.

PROMINENT SPEAKERS ACCEPT INVITATIONS

To Address Southern Forestry Congress at Asheville.

Hon. Edmund Seymour, of New York, and Hon. Henry S. Graves, United States Forester, Among the Number—July 11-15.

Chapel Hill, N. C., June 17.—A number of prominent men have already accepted the invitation to speak at the Southern Forestry Congress which will be held in Asheville July 11-15. The Hon. Edmund Seymour, of New York, president of the American Bison Society, will address the Congress on Tuesday, July 11, upon the "Re-Establishment and Protection of Big Game in the Southern Appalachians." This society has already brought about the introduction of bison and other large game into the forest preserves of a large number of states and they are particularly interested in having elk and, possibly, bison introduced into the Southern Appalachian National Forest.

Hon. Henry S. Graves, United States Forester, has promised to speak upon "Southern Forests and Their Place in the Nation's Timber Supply." Governor Locke Craig, of North Carolina, who has been instrumental in securing the purchase by the State of the summit of Mt. Mitchell for a State monument and forest park, will make an address of welcome and open the deliberations of the Congress. Mr. Clarence J. Owens, secretary of the Southern Commercial Congress, will speak the same day upon "The Forests in Relation to the Upbuilding of the South." The Southern Commercial Congress has from the first had a forestry committee, and Mr. Owens has already shown a great amount of interest in this subject.

The Southern Pine Forests will receive a large share of the attention of the Congress. Prof. J. W. Toumey, director Yale Forest School—the senior class of which annually spends two or three months in the South—will deal with "The Regeneration of the Southern Pine Forests," a subject of the greatest importance to all Southern landowners and manufacturers. Professor Toumey is perhaps the foremost authority in the country upon seedlings and planting of cut-over and abandoned land, and his address will be looked forward to with a great deal of interest. Mr. I. F. Eldredge, supervisor of the Florida National Forest, will deal with a closely related subject, "The Naval Stores Industry; How It Can be Perpetuated in the South." Several other prominent authorities have been invited to discuss related subjects.

Forest Fire Prevention is perhaps the subject of most pressing importance for the South just at this time. Millions of dollars are lost to the Southern States each year from this cause alone. The Thursday morning session of the Congress will be devoted to this subject, and such authorities as Hon. J. A. Viquesney, Forest, Fish and Game Warden of West Virginia; Prof. H. H. Chapman, of the Yale Forest School; Mr. F. W. Beasley, state forester of Maryland; Mr. W. Hoyt Weber, manager of the Central West Virginia Fire Protective Association; Mr. J. G. Peters, of the United States Forest Service, and others will contribute to this day's proceedings.

Requests have been sent out for the appointment of delegates to represent the states at large as well as the forestry departments and the educational institutions. All men and women who are interested in any phase of this subject are, however, cordially invited to attend and it is expected that a large number of the regular visitors who go to the Carolina mountains in July will make a point of being in Asheville for the Southern Forestry Congress.

on the head with a blunt instrument.

The body was found early this afternoon ten miles from the city, but it was some time later when they reached Huntsville. At about 4 o'clock it is stated that one of the men sought by the officers was seen leaving the city in an automobile. Officers say that other men they were looking for also suddenly disappeared.

Later in the night, it was rumored that one of the men who could not be found early in the evening had returned to the city. The home of B. D. Overton, for a number of years circuit court clerk, and Judge Lawler's recent opponent in the judgeship race was entered by officers. It was said that Mr. Overton was not at home. No arrests were made.

A coroner began hearings tonight and recessed until Monday morning. At that time Attorney General W. L. Martin is expected to assume charge of the investigation. It also is planned to draw a new grand jury to investigate charges of frauds at the primary when Judge Lawler was re-nominated. Two grand juries have failed to return indictments.

TESTIFY THAT MISS LAMBERT WAS GAY AND HAPPY AT PARTY

Group of Eighteen-Year-Old Girls Testify Against Will Orpet.

Waukegan, Ills., June 17. — A group of eighteen-year-old girls who were guests at Marion Lambert's birthday party three days before her lifeless body was found in the snow in Helm's woods last February, were witnesses here today at the trial of Will H. Orpet, her sweetheart, who is charged with having given her poison. The girls were called by the state in rebuttal of the testimony of Josephine Davis, who had testified that Marion was despondent just before her death and had threatened suicide.

Bernice Wells, the first witness, said that the night of the party Marion seemed happy and did not cry, as Miss Davis testified she had done. Florence Russell, who, with two girl friends, spent the night at the Lambert home, said they had talked a great deal about Orpet, and that Marion had said: "Jo. Davis liked Orpet."

companies will be allowed to do business.

In Danville hotel lobbies signs appeared tonight reading:

"Don't ask for cigars or tobacco on Sunday. We cannot sell."

Lynchburg will prohibit the sale of gasoline, soft drinks and tobacco and the operation of shoe shine establishments, but will allow the operation of newspapers, street cars, telephones and telegraph companies.

The mayor of Roanoke tonight instructed the police that the Ouster Act must not alter the present enforcement of the laws, either during the week days or on Sundays. No test cases were contemplated, it was said.

Petersburg authorities also have announced there will be no material curtailment of usual Sunday activities.

O. C. KLINGMAN IS CONVICTED

(Special Star Telegram.)

Greensboro, N. C., June 17.—O. C. Klingman was tonight convicted of embezzlement in Guilford Superior court. The jury verdict was at 12:05. Motions for sentence and to set aside verdict will be considered Monday.

Newport News, Va., June 17.—A 1 1-2 inch rifle, mounted on the stern deck, was observed by the boarding officer at this port today, when he went aboard the British ship French Prince. The ship's officers said the gun was for signal purposes only, but the Treasury Department will be notified of its presence.
